

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP

NICHOLS CEMETERY

The land was donated in 1843 by Prosper Nichols. The first burial is said to have been a child of Samuel Shields. Prosper Nichols was a settler in Franklin Township in 1839, a former resident of Harrison County, Ohio, and died in 1868.<sup>1</sup> [stone in Row 12 shows Prosper Nichols d. Oct 18, 1866]

The following article, written by Fannie Moore, was furnished to the compilers by Velma Bright, Librarian, Carnegie Public Library, Akron, Indiana on August 15, 1975 for inclusion herein:

Solomon Nichols, whose gravestone I could not find, donated the land for Nichols cemetery (date unknown) with one restriction: no lots were ever to be sold; and to this day as far as I could learn, that restriction has always been held sacred. Families with relatives buried there were expected to help pay for upkeep, and that also has been observed. A trust fund made up of donations provides part of the cost of upkeep. Some donors for upkeep have preferred to give yearly. The cemetery has been well taken care of.

Many of the old gravestones have eroded to the extent that names and dates are too indistinct to read. Other donations of land have been made in later years, but the rules apply to that land, too.

When the cemetery first came into use there was no building for funeral services. Logs were laid in rows for seats for mourners. Later a chapel was built, equipped with heating stoves, benches and an organ. Not many years ago it fell into disuse and was not kept in repair. So the trustees sold it. It was moved into an adjoining pasture field and later caught fire and was burned to the ground.

Two brothers of the Burns family, descendants of Solomon Nichols, became Methodist preachers. Robert Burns was a circuit rider and preached as he traveled. Later he became the first district superintendent of an area covering northern Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, covering all of his territory on horse back. His brother, James, was termed an "exhorter" and preached for many years. The graves of these two devout men are in Nichols cemetery, marked by copper memorial plaques set in cement at the foot of the gravestones. This was accomplished by the Akron Methodist church several years ago and paid for by money given by the descendants of these two men. James Burns was born in 1792 and died in 1872. Robert Burns died in 1877 but I didn't get the date of his birth. However the dates are on the plaques. --- by Fannie Moore.

Located on the South side of 950S, approximately 1/2 mile west of S.R. 19, in Franklin Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana. A sign on the gate shows: Nichols Cemetery Assn., Inc., Joe Miller, Omar Leining, Robert Heighway, Ruth Heighway, Sec., Akron R#2.

The cemetery is divided into the North and South Sections. Rows run North and South, and are numbered from West to East; stones were read from North to South.

Readings were made by Jean C. and Wendell C. Tombaugh in 1976 and 1990.

EARLY HISTORY OF SEWARD TOWNSHIP<sup>4</sup>

Several of the earliest settlers of Seward Township were buried in the Franklin Cemetery. As judged by an account in the Combination Atlas Map of Kosciusko County, 1879, these included:

Girdon Hurlbut who settled with three sons in 1837. The first white child born in the township, Rhoda L., daughter of C.B. & Gratia Hurlbut, was likely his grandchild.

Milo R. Barbour (Barber) who settled in 1838 and presented the petition signed by 220 citizens for creation of the township in 1859. The township was taken from the east side of Franklin Township. He was appointed the first trustee.

John and Robert Robinson who settled in 1838. The first religious meeting - Presbyterian - is said to have been held in the cabin of John Robinson.

Others who were among the first settlers were: John and Mark Smith, Wm. Anderson and Nathaniel Paxton.

No marker was found for James Garvin who operated the first blacksmith shop, planted the first orchard and was sent to the State Legislature with a petition for the first road - north and south through the center of the township.
