From the Director's Desk

Dear library patron and community partner,

I am honored to let you know that the state of the library is strong. We are here, as always, and per our mission to provide programs and materials to our community which promote education, culture, information and entertainment. We are here for you.

Of course, you might notice a few things have changed over the years, but then again, I never used to be able to scan my own groceries, or renew my license plates online. To quote Bob Dylan, "The times they are a-changin'."

We are still offering the traditional things libraries always have, but like most institutions, we are changing with the times and with our patrons. We have a great selection of books, movies, and music, but also electronic resources and many more programs which are both educational and entertainment at the same time.

We are very lucky to be able to serve you, and don't hesitate to let us know how we might best do that—give a call, send an e-mail, carrier pigeon, pass a note, just give us a holler.

Big things are coming to your Fulton County Public Library, so stay tuned and get involved! Join the Friends of the Library to help raise funds to support important library programming, come to a board meeting to see how our library is governed. Most importantly, come be a part of it—collaborate with us today and tomorrow. We're glad you are here. Keep in touch.

—Director Jon
