Ignatious "Notsie" MEYER, well known seal card manufacturer of this city, was instantly killed near Logansport, Saturday night when the automobile which he was driving, skidded into a deep ditch and upset, pinning him underneath. His neck was broken. R. K. GILLILAND, E. A. SMITH and Stephen PARCEL, who were also in the car, escaped injuries.

The accident happened in a blinding snow storm about 11 o'clock when they were driving along the Michigan pike, four miles north of Logansport. Although Mr. Meyer, who was driving, could barely see the road, the accident was probably due to the snow which caused the car to skid in a narrow place. After leaving the road the machine climbed the opposite embankment and then fell over on its side. Evidently the driver fell out of the car when it stated to turn over, as he was found on his back with the - - - part of the machine resting on his body. The other three men were very lucky, as they escaped and with the exception of Steve Parcel, who received several scratches on the face, were unhurt.

According to the account given by the surviving members of the party they left Rochester Saturday afternoon at two o'clock for Logansport. Mr. Meyer and Steve Parcel had business in that city, and E. A. Smith, agent for Advance Harvester Company and Reub Gilliland, local business man, were invited as guests. They arrived in Logansport about four o'clock and started on the return trip at 10:30 in the evening.

The fatal accident happened in front of Hugh UELRICK'S farm, north of Logansport. When the car turned over, Smith, Gilliland and Parcel were thrown out, free of the heavy vehicle. They at once tried to lift the machine off of Mr. Meyer, but were unable to move it. Running to the Uelrick farm, Mr. Parcel obtained help and within 15 minutes nine men living in the neighborhood were on the scene and succeeded in dragging the body from underneath the car. They were horror-stricken to find that Mr. Meyer was dead and up to that moment were laboring under the idea that life was not extinct.

Taking the body to the farm home of Mr. Uelrick, they telephoned to the coroner at Logansport who sent an ambulance and an undertaker to them. Mr. Gilliland also telephoned to Rochester and notified John HOOVER of the accident. Mr. Hoover broke the news to the Meyer family and then in a big Mitchell car made a quick trip to the Uelrick farm. In the meanwhile, the undertaker from Logansport had arrived and taken the body of Mr. Meyer and the Rochester men to Logansport, where the Cass county coroner held an inquest at once.

In a few minutes he examined the three witnesses and returned a verdict of accidental death due to a broken neck. The body was kept in the morgue until Sunday morning, when it was brought to Rochester by Mr. Hoover. Mr. Parcel accompanied Mr. Hoover, but Mr. Gilliland and Mr. Smith came home on the morning train from the south.

The accidental death of Mr. Meyer, who was known to all Rochester citizens, comes as a deep shock to the community. He was well liked by everyone. He took a deep interest in all public affairs and during the celebration of Peru Day last summer, was very active. For five or six years he has been located in Rochester where he conducted a seal card factory, giving employment during the winter months to 20 girls. Prior to this time he traveled in the West, but always made Rochester his home.

Mrs. MEYER was in Chicago when the accident took place. She was called home by her son, Julian, over the telephone. The sudden death of her husband has prostrated Mrs. Meyer.

Mr. Meyer was born in 1867. In 1892 he was married to Miss Mina DUMBAULD. To this union one child, Julian [MEYER], was born. There also survive his mother, Mrs. Nancy MEYER, his wife and one son and five brothers and sisters, Mrs. J. A. BEULL of Alaska, John MEYER of Mason City, Iowa, and Misses Rosa [MEYER] and Caroline MEYER and Henry MEYER of this city. Mr. Meyer was a member of the K. of P. lodge.

A private funeral will be held at the house Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock. All those wishing to call may come between ten and eleven Tuesday morning.

Contrary to rumor, the three men who were with Mr. Meyer when he was killed, made the statement today that when the accident happened, the car was going about 10 miles an hour. Mr. Parcel said that they left Logansport at 10:30 o'clock, they were only four miles from the city. Mr. Meyer was well known as a very careful driver and the fatal accident Saturday night was the first that he ever experienced. The ditch beside the road into which the car skidded is about six feet deep.

Francis LOUDERBACK accompanied by his son, Harry [LOUDERBACK], drove after the Meyer automobile this morning. R. K. Gilliland said this afternoon that three minutes before the accident Mr. Meyer turned to them and said, "boys, I am going to drive very slow, as the roads are in bad condition." Those were his last words.

Mr. and Mrs. George WILSON, who recently moved on a farm near Kouts, Indiana, were instantly killed Saturday night, west of Ora, when struck on the crossing by the Erie fast express, number 13. The train was several hours late and was traveling a mile a minute. The young couple was instantly killed and one of the horses that they were driving was later shot as the result of its injuries.

George Wilson was the son of Ephriam WILSON, who now lives in Ora and who formerly lived in this county. The aged parents of the young man ar prostrated as the result of the accident. The young couple, who met such an untimely death were married about a year ago and had moved only recently to their home near Kouts, from Ora.

It is supposed that they were totally unaware of the train which was traveling at an unusual speed. The crew picked up the bodies and brought them back to Ora where the funeral services will be held. The bodies were badly disfigured and it is evident that the train carried them for several hundred feet before they were thrown off the track. The buggy was completely demolished.

Marie Jennette BABCOCK, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. L. BABCOCK, born at Rochester, Ind., Sept. 26, 1891, died at the St. Elizabeth hospital, Danville, Illinois, Feb. 16, 1914, aged 22 years, 4 months, 21 days, and December 17, 1911, at Rochester, she was married to Virgil KNAPP. In early life she was converted and united with the 1st Baptist church of Rochester and she remained a faithful member until her death, being regular in her attendance and work in the Sunday school and church. Last December, she with her husband and little son, moved to Danville, Ill. She was taken seriously ill there and breathed her last in the hospital. Those surviving her are: husband, Virgil KNAPP, and little son, Donald [KNAPP], her mother, three brothers and two sisters and a large number of relatives and friends. Her father, one brother and one sister preceded her to the other world. She was a member of the Evergreen Rebekah lodge and also of the Isabelle temple, Pythian Sisters. It seems scarcely credible that this young, vigorous life should have passed away from us so quickly. Only a few weeks ago I bade her good bye, as she with her husband and baby went to their new home near Danville, Ill. She looked so beautiful and appeared to be so vigorous. We had reason to expect that many years of service were before her. But that young, hopeful, vigorous capable life has finished its course and the new life of Heaven has opened up before her forever. I need not say that Marie was a general favorite. In her common schools, in her high school life, in her lodge relations and in her relations as a church member, she was much beloved. As you know she had considerable ability as a reader and reciter and was in much demand for entertainments. But the sweet, thrilling voice is hushed, the gentle, personality is calm and still in death, she was awakened to a larger, fuller life in the far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. She has departed to be with Christ, which is far better. May God comfort her bereaved husband and broken hearted mother and relatives and may He care for her motherless babe. - - - Rev. G. C. CHANDLER.

George REED, 21, second son of Charles REED, died this morning at seven o'clock. The attending physician is undecided as to the direct cause of death, but believes that it was a masked form of diphtheria.

The young man took sick about two weeks ago but it was thought by the family that he was suffering with a cold and a sore throat. He did not become worse until last week and even then the physician did not see any signs of diphtheria. Monday evening he was better, so thought his mother who told the physician that he need not call

Because of the shock, Fred HOFFMAN, who is very ill, has not been told of the death of his wife which occurred this morning at four o'clock at their home on Madison street. The body of the aged woman has been removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clara RHODES, who lives on the same street.

Mrs. Hoffman has been ill for several years and became worse last week. For the last three days she has been compelled to sit in a chair and the end finally came this morning, caused by a weak heart. Mr. Hoffman took sick last Saturday, caused by a general break down. He is now in bed, partly conscious and it is feared that the news of his wife's death, with whom he had lived for 65 years, will be too much for him to survive. His recovery is doubtful.

He had achieved prominence in his profession was prominent in the Methodist church and a life long democrat. The funeral was held at Fremont Friday. An UNIDENTIFIED MAN was killed this afternoon at the Erie depot while trying to ride the rods on the express car on the east bound Erie train due here at 1:46. The man was horribly mangled and nothing was found upon his body to identify him.

The accident happened in full view of a number of people who were boarding the train. Those who saw it say the man crossed track number one and sided along the train to the express car. He then climbed upon the rods and in doing so slipped and fell to the track. The train was already in motion and before he could climb out from beneath, the wheels caught him. He was dragged for about thirty feet before the train could be stopped. The man was dead when picked up. Val Zimmerman's establishment was called and he was taken to the morgue where he was searched for any identification papers. None were found. His body was cut badly in several places exclusive of the main cut across the abdomen which ran the whole width of his body. His hands were also severely cut, he having evidently endeavored to grasp some object to protect himself from the wheels.

The man was seen by several people around town prior to the accident. Foster Haslett saw him in front of his packing house on north Main at about 12:00. He wore a dark gray coat with dark striped trousers and a black overcoat. He also had a redish mustache. The man was evidently between fifty and fifty-five years old.

No identification cards of any sort was found after a thorough search of the body, although the sum of $57.05 in silver and paper money was found on his body. A black cap was also picked up which evidently belonged to him.

"Uncle Del" WARD, 86, is dead.

He passed away suddenly this (Friday) morning at 11:30 o'clock at the home of his son on Madison street.

He died as he had lived, without complaint, and his last words to his great-granddaughter, Henrietta WARD, were: "I am sick, but don't bother anyone." When Mrs. Ward arrived at his side he had passed away. Pursuing the usual program of the day, he arose this morning, fed his horses and went down to his office where he remained for several hours. Going back to the house, a distance of one block, he told his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Delmon WARD, about the death of old friend George PERSCHBACHER, remarked on other news, and went upstairs to his room. Taking off his boots he lay down on the bed to rest as he usually does at that time. A few minutes later, his granddaughter heard a peculiar noise and went up to his room. Before help could arrive the 86 years of a well spent life were ended.

William A. WARD was a native of New York state, the son of Ebenezer WARD, and moved to this county in 1831. His father at one time was one of the associate judges of the county and died in 1847. They came here when the Indian wigwam was the only sign of habitation and the country around was a pathless wilderness. Local residents have often heard "Uncle Del" tell about the last Indians. On January 3, 1853, he was married to Adeline H. HOWES, who died at the age of 55, 24 years ago. Several children were born to this union, of whom only one, Henry H. WARD, survives. There is one grandson, Delmon WARD, of South Bend.

Mr. Ward was known before his death as the oldest liveryman in the state. At the age of 16 he entered the livery business here and up until five years ago was active in the business. For years he owned the barns now occupied by CLARY and ONSTOTT. He was better known over the county as a veterinary and as the result of his years of experience and knowledge was an expert in regard to diseases peculiar to horses and cattle. He was a Mason, a life long democrat. He served as county sheriff 1876-8.

There are no funeral arrangements yet.

A county pioneer turned his face to the wall at 5:30 o'clock this (Friday) morning, when George PERSCHBACHER, aged 80 years, passed away at his home, 306 W. Ninth Street, after an illness of nearly three months. Members of the immediate family were at his bedside when he died.

Mr. Perschbacher, who up until the first of the year, had been active for a man of his age, was taken ill about New Years, and grew steadily worse. Hardening of the arteries and senility, physicians say, caused his death which had been expected for several days. He was rational only at times, but recognized his near relatives before he died.

In politics, Mr. Perschbacher was a democrat; in religion as Evangelical Lutheran, having been baptized when he was born and confirmed at his farm home by Rev. STURKEN in 1857. He was one of the promoters of the Fulton County Agricultural and Mechanical Society and was active in all other ventures with which he was connected.

George Perschbacher was born near Baltimore, Md., July 7, 1833, of parents, Mr. and Mrs. John George PERSCHBACHER, who had removed to this country from Germany, arriving in port just two days before the birth of the son. The next year, the family located in York county, Pennsylvania, and in 1839 immigrated to Wayne county, Indiana, thence to this county in 1845. The father died in March, 1886, and the mother in April, 1881. They were the parents of nine children, of whom George was the fourth.

George made all the changes of location with his parents, being under 13 when they came to this county. His early life was spent on his father's farm. He improved his opportunities at school, excelled in his studies, and became one of the leading teachers of his day, occupying that position for four consecutive terms. In his fifth year, he was united in marriage to Miss Jane WRIGHT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James WRIGHT, April 2, 1857. She was born July 2, 1837, and was the first white child to see the light of day in Newcastle township.

After his marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Perschbacher located on his farm of 120 acres, lying six miles northeast of the city, and began to improve their home. He felled much timber, bought and sold stock and by dint of hard work increased his holdings to 640 acres, and made his farm one of the most beautiful in the county. In the fall of 1872, he was elected county assessor and land appraiser, holding the office for two years.

Mrs. Perschbacher died Feb. 3, 1887, at the farm home. She was the mother of seven children, all of whom, save one, Catherine [PERSCHBACHER], are living. Harboring the delusion that he had little to live for, Elmore DAVIS, age 61, and a bachelor, committed suicide this morning, at three o'clock, using a shot gun, the load tearing away the top of his head. The act was committed in the store room on College Ave., just one door south of the residence of his brother, Columbus DAVIS, who heard the shot.

The family can give no motive for the act, but think from the remarks that he made during the past few days that he premeditated suicide. For the last two months, Mr. Davis made his home with his brother, coming here from Oklahoma, where he has been for the past 12 years and where he proved 160 acres of government land.

Arriving here in the winter, he worked around the house and seemed contented until the last few days, when he made the remark that he had little to live for. Thursday he asked the family if his nephew, Edward DAVIS, who had been sleeping with him and who was then working in the country, would be home that night. He was told that he was going to stay at the farm.

Three o'clock this morning Columbus Davis heard a shot and getting out of bed saw a light in a neighbor's house, which led him to believe that they were responsible for the noise. When breakfast was ready, he went over to the store to call his brother and then found the door locked to the room where he had been sleeping. Going down stairs he met a neighbor and together they forced the door. It was evident that the man met his death instantly. He lay on the bed partly undressed and with the gun still clasped in his hands.

Elmore Davis was a son of Absolem DAVIS and was born on a farm near Akron. He followed farming all his life. He leaves three brothers, Columbus of this city, John [DAVIS] and Schuyler [DAVIS] of Akron, three sisters, Margaret E. MORGAN of Akron, Mrs. Cecilia WHITE of Canton, Ohio, and Mary MULL, who lives in California.

The appearance of a heretofore unheard of daughter of the late William SURGUY, veteran, threatens to cause a law suit over his estate.

The woman appeared Sunday evening, giving her name as Mrs. Wilda KRUSE of Port Mitchell, Ind. She is 41 years old and is married, having several children. Mrs. Kruse claims to be the daughter of the first wife of William SURGUY, a blind soldier, who formerly lived on south Jefferson St. She says she was born in Port Mitchell, that her parents were divorced before she was five years old, and that she remained with her mother.

Mr. Surguy, she says, then moved to Rochester and married for the second time. His second wife died, however, before he did. Surguy died about 13 months ago and Mrs. Kruse claims that she was not informed of the death of her father until three weeks ago. She went to Meyers and Emmons with her case and they are investigating her claims to the estate. Surguy owned two houses in the south part of the city and one on Fourth street. He also had considerable money as he drew a large pension.

The relatives of William Surguy in this city deny that the woman is any relative of his, claiming that he never had a daughter. Mrs. Kruse however says that she has been here several times to visit her father. It is probable that the matter will be taken into court.

Mrs. Samuel BADER of Basil, Ohio, arrived this morning to attend the funeral of her niece, Mrs. Charles HAGAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton AUGHINBAUGH will attend the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Lucy KRASHER, in North Manchester.

For the second time in six weeks death called at the home of Charles REED in East Rochester, Sunday, when the 15 year old daughter, Lucile [REED], was stricken with the same disease that caused her brother's death on March 3rd.

The attending physicians are mystified by the symptoms of the malady which brought death so quickly. The young girl attended school last Monday and was taken sick on Tuesday. Physicians were called and pronounced the trouble tonsilitis. She became steadily worse, the throat swelling until the patient could hardly swallow. Sunday morning at one o'clock she passed away.

George REED, the brother, died under the same circumstances six weeks ago and the state pathologists at Indianapolis who tested the culture from his throat, said that he was not afflicted with diphtheria. Another sister took sick shortly after her brother's death, but was quickly cured. No quarantine has been established, although one of the attending physicians is now of the opinion that the disease is diphtheria and that the men in Indianapolis who tested the culture were mistaken.

Mr. and Mrs. REED are prostrated with the death of the second child. They have four remaining, two girls and two boys.

The following story related by Francis LOUDERBACK, shows how unexpectedly one man lost his life in Mud Lake near Macy:

"About 26 years ago, on the same Sunday that Frank TAYLOR of this city, broke his neck, after jumping from a springing board, Elleson STUDEBAKER of Fulton and I drove to Mud Lake to spend Sunday. Getting a boat we rowed out into the center of the lake to go in swimming. After undressing I let myself down into the water. My friend took a header across the end of the boat, shoving it for several rods. Suddenly from out of a clear sky a stiff breeze sprung up taking my boat toward the shore at a rapid pace. We were poor swimmers and realized our danger in the deep water, started after the runaway craft. But the boat kept gaining on us and after what seemed to me a century, I spied a stake, but on letting my weight on it, the pole sank into the mud. Studebaker by this time was nearly exhausted and I was about in the same condition. The boat had reached the shore, a distance of one mile and our only hope lay in being able to reach shallow water.

Suddenly, as it seemed, I gave up and the only thing that saved my life was the depth of the water. I could just touch the ground with the tips of my toes. Wading out I quickly reached the shore. Studebaker was not so fortunate. He cried for help and I made a wild scramble along the beach trying to find a board. Nothing of the kind could be found and running back in the water, I saw my friend go down for the first time. Without another cry he came up twice again and then sank for the last time. As my clothes were in the boat which had landed at the extreme end of the lake I ran through the brush, regardless of the scratches. At last help was secured and about two hours after, the body was found. Never again will I jump from a boat which is not anchored."

Just 12 hours after Charles STIVER, a former partner, died in South Whitley, William L. CRABILL, of this city, passed away Monday evening at his home on south Madison street. Death was caused by a cancer of the stomach which postmortem examination revealed.

Mr. Crabill was last seen at his shop on February 26th. He became steadily worse and despite the aid of a number of physicians his recovery was given up several weeks ago. In the end he fought death. While suffering a great deal he did not complain and firmly believed that he would get well. Possessing a strong constitution the final end was prolonged for weeks.

For 25 years William Crabill has been a barber in Rochester. He learned the trade under a Mr. LAGRO. Later he worked for Ray MYERS and John SHIRE. In 1897 he formed a partnership with Frank STETSON which has been in operation ever since. About 12 years ago they purchased the Arlington barber shop.

Seldom off duty, the first to arrive in the morning and the last to leave in the evening, "Bill" as he was known to everybody was a model of industry. Many young men learned the trade under him and they always left his employ with the warning to be a decent citizen. Though he was in the habit of telling people just what he thought, he had many friends.

William Crabill was born in Vaughnsville, Ohio, August 31, 1865, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli CRABILL, who are both dead. His father died when he was eight years old. His parents moved to near Millark when he was about three years old. On Sunday, August 30, 1891, he was married to Ida E. PONTIUS. Four children were born to them, Mrs. S. M. STUBBS, Ruth [CRABILL], Fern [CRABILL] and Zelma [CRABILL]. He has three half-brothers, John [CRABILL], Joseph [CRABILL] and Henry CRABILL, who live in Kansas.

William Crabill was a member of the K. of P. and Odd Fellows lodges. The funeral will be held at the Evangelical church Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Charles STIVER, 54, formerly a Rochester barber, died Monday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lew WIMICK, in South Whitley.

Mr. Stiver's mother died when he was a lad. He was married, but parted from his wife some time ago. Two children were born to them, Miss Franchon STIVER dying from tuberculosis two years ago. The same disease caused his death after he had traveled to Arizona in search of health. One daughter, Mrs. Hazel DOUD, survives him at South Bend, and is the mother of two children. Two brothers also survive: George STIVER of Fort Wayne and M. O. STIVER, of Vincennes, Indiana, and the sister in South Whitley.

He was a member of the K. P. order and first started in the barber business at Rochester. He was later in Chicago and Indianapolis, until his health gave out, and he had to go West. It is expected that the remains will be driven through to Fort Wayne and the body incinerated at the crematory. The ashes will be turned over to his daughter to do as she wishes. This was the last request.

Wednesday, May 13, 1914

The funeral of William CRABILL was held this afternoon at the Evangelical church, Rev. BAUMGARTNER officiating. The Odd Fellows and K. of P. lodges attended in a body and Citizens band, of which Mr. Crabill was a member, led the funeral march. Burial was made in the I.O.O.F. cemetery.

Everett WILLIAMSON, a partner in the Fulton Garage, died Tuesday afternoon at his home near Fulton. He was only 21 years of age. His death was caused by tuberculosis.

Edna Bernice COPLEN, daughter of O. M. and Mary Belle COLEN, was born in Rochester, Indiana, December 15 1905, and departed this life May 11, 1914, aged eight years, four months and 26 days. Bernice, as she was familiarly known, was a pupil in the third grade of the public schools, a member of the primary department of the Christian Bible schools and a member of the primary duration, diphtheria causing her death. [sic] She was a sweet spirited child and had many friends. Besides her parents, she leaves two sisters and five brothers, Mrs. May DICKERHOFF, Akron; Milo [COPLEN], Oscar [COPLEN], George [COPLEN], Grace [COPLEN], Ray [COPLEN] and Omer COPLEN. One foster brother, Foster [COPLEN], aged five and a sister, Hazel [COPLEN], aged 2, are dead.

ONSTOTT, September 15th, 1863, she having died Jan. 28, 1894. To the union were born eight children, seven of whom are living, one son having died April 2, 1892. Jonas A. MYERS is dead. The well known veteran of the civil war and member of the McClung Post G.A.R., died Sunday evening at his home on Jefferson street at the age of 85. Mr. Myers held a gold headed cane as the oldest Odd Fellow in Rochester, having been a member for 63 years, was postmaster here for four years and was an ex-town marshal and member of the town board.

For years he was one of the progressive and leading citizens of Rochester. His death marks the passing of one of the staunchest supporters of the American flag that ever lived. He was intensely patriotic. He was a strong republican until the progressive party was launched, becoming one of its wheel-horses.

Mr. Myers died after a short illness. He took sick last Wednesday and went to his bed. Sunday night a few hours before he passed away he sat up on the edge of his bed and his relatives had hopes of his recovery. At 11:30 he died without a struggle. Mr. Myers was blessed with the best of health throughout his life. While in the army he never was wounded or even in the hospital. After the charge at Chattanooga, he was one of the four of his company who were left. On the 19th of July, 1875, he lost an arm at his planing mill in a buzz saw.

Though he was one of the most valiant soldiers in the war, he did not draw a pension until after the year 1890. He enlisted at Indianapolis, August 8th, 1862. He saw service at Perrysville, Peach Tree Creek, Chattanooga, and was with Sherman in all of his engagements on the march to the sea. He enlisted as a private and held every office in the company. When he was discharged at Washington in 1865, after the grand review, he held a commission as a lieutenant.

Returning after the war he purchased a half interest in the planing mill of Dave Martin in which he later assumed full control. For 40 years he was active in this business. Then he sold out about ten years ago to his son-in-law, Stilla BAILEY. In 1890 he was appointed postmaster here by President Harrison, holding the position for four years. Previous to that time he had served as a member of the town board and as town marshal.

Mr. Myers had the honor of being the oldest Odd Fellow in this county and one of the oldest in the state. He was also a charter member of the McClung Post, the meetings of which he never failed to attend. Mr. Myers was a firm believer in what he thought was right. Several years ago he made arrangements for his funeral and had the casket built. The services were also paid for. While in office he made a good public servant and would not follow the dictates of any one.

Jonas Myers was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania, Feb. 20, 1829, the son of Jacob and Rosana MYERS. In 1839 he came to Miami county where he lived until 1843 when he moved to Rochester. In the years before the war he followed the trade of a carpenter. His first wife, Marian W. B. CLAYTON, died September 8, 1852. His second wife, Anna GRIMES, died November 1st, 1865. On March 17, 1867, he was married to Elizabeth CLAYTON, in Miami county, who survives him. Two children were born to the last union and are living. They are Mrs. Indianola E. BAILEY of this city and John MYERS, who recently moved to Miles City, Montana.

The funeral will not be set until Mrs. Myers hears from her son in Montana.

After a long and painful illness, William Earl MOWE died Sunday morning at nine-thirty o'clock at his home in west part of the city, age 25. His death was caused by tuberculosis of the bowels brought on by lead poisoning, which he contracted while following his trade as a painter. Several physicians who examined him maintain that death was caused by stomach trouble, and while in California, a prominent specialist promised a cure if he would go in a hospital and remain on diet. This order he refused to obey, which, his family say, caused his death.

Earl Mowe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David MOWE who made their hom in Rochester for years. Within the last 20 years five children of the six have died. Bessie [MOWE] and Myrtle [MOWE] died the same year. It is the popular belief that their death was caused by tuberculosis, although the family and relatives believe that death was caused by other diseases. David Mowe, the father, died in California about five years ago. Iva MOWE died in 1902 and Carl [MOWE] passed away when very young.

Last January Earl MOWE returned to Rochester, after remaining in California for over three years. He was born in Rochester, June 26, 1889. In 1911, in California, he was married to Mary McMAHAN, who was with him when he died. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Viola MOWE, and one brother, Lee [MOWE].

Earl Mowe was a member of a California Moose lodge. He was a faithful member of the Christian church. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at the Christian church, Rev. BURKETTE officiating. The services will be in charge of the local ofder of Moose.

Louis HAROLD, one of the first settlers of this county, died Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sarah MOST of near Athens. Mr. Harold was born in 1828 and came to Fulton county from Ohio with his parents in 1840.

He was one of our best known and progressive citizens. Leading an active life and taking an interest in daily events, he retained all the faculties of youth to the last hour. Death was due to complications following old age. Mr. Harold was a close friend of "Uncle" Dell WARD, George PERSCHBACHER and Edward UTTER, old pioneers.

Mr. Harold was born in Pennsylvania, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John HAROLD, who passed away in this county about 50 years ago. A few years after his birth, the family moved to Ohio, and later to Indiana. They made the trip from Ohio in a covered wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen. They were compelled to cut their way through the woods and finally settled near Athens where John Harold purchased eighty acres of land from the government for $350.

This farm was later sold by Louis Harold when he purchased 120 acres near there which he owned until one year ago. In the ten years following their arrival here, Louis Harold often drove to Wabash and Logansport for mill feed and flour, the trip taking two days.

Louis Harold was married twice. When about twenty years of age he married Elenor BURNS who passed away about fifty years ago. Two children were born to them, Mrs. Elizabeth JONES and Mrs. Louisa GOOD of this county. He later married Rachel DORAN who died about forty years ago. Two children were born to this union who are living, Mrs. Sarah MOST and Milo HARROLD. He leaves seven grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Asa DEWEESE, whose name adorns both county jail and court house as one of the building commissioners, died at his home west of Fulton this (Thursday) morning, after an illness of short duration. He was approaching his eighty-eighth year. Senility and the extreme warm weather are believed the causes.

Mr. Deweese was one of the county's few remaining types of pioneers who made their homes by the work of their hands, having lived here over sixty years. He had an extensive acquaintance, being well known as a pedestrian of ability. Often he walked from his home to the city to attend a meeting of the commissioners' court in which he served two terms, being president in the second. Mr. Deweese was a progressive commissioner and many of the most important public improvements in the county are due to his idea of keeping county affairs apace with the advance of the general community.

Asa Deweese, of the 1st district, was born in Miami county, O., in 1826. Three years later his parents moved to Shelby county, Ohio, and he lived there until 1854, when he came to Fulton county and purchased the land in Liberty township, west of Fulton, which has ever since been his home. His baggage brought to the county consisted of a gripsack, in which he carried a change of clothing, two iron wedges and a grubbing hoe, while on his shoulder he freighted an ax and a rifle all necessary appurtenances for early day farming in the heavy timber of this county. After two years work on his new farm he returned to Ohio and married Emeline RUSSEL. She lived but two years leaving her husband alone. Several years later he married Mary A. BUTLER and two children blessed this union, Emily, wife of Charles MARTIN of

Marion, and Charles [DEWEESE], a son.

Funeral arrangements are not known.

Special to the Sentinel

Akron, Ind., June 24 -- Naomi RIGGLE, aged 13, daughter of Rev. RIGGLE, fatally burned Tuesday morning when her father threw a blazing gasoline can in the yard, died the same afternoon shortly after five o'clock. Her body with the exception of those parts covered by her shoes and belt, was a mass of burns and she had little or no chance to recover.

The accident happened about eight o'clock in the morning and although everything possible was done to aid her, the fight was in vain and hypodermics were used to alleviate her last hours of suffering. She leaves besides the frantic father, who cast out the burning can in an attempt to avert an explosion in the house, a mother, three sisters and two brothers.

The Riggles have lived here but two weeks, he coming to assume charge of the All Saints church. No funeral arrangements have been made but it is thought the body will be shipped back to Pennsylvania whence the family came.

Val ZIMMERMAN, undertaker, went to Logansport this (Monday) morning to secure the body of Mrs. Nancy A. ZOLMAN, who committed suicide Sunday evening, but returned with two corpses, the second being that of Isaac BALL, who died during a fight with another patient.

Ball, who was taken to the asylum from here Saturday, became involved this morning in an argument with an insane doctor. A scuffle and a fist fight followed, during which Ball suddenly expired. The coroner's verdict says death was due to a rupture of the liver. The body was brought to the Zimmerman morgue.

Ball was a bachelor, 51 years old, and was well-to-do, owning a farm near Marstown where he lived with a maiden sister, who is the only surviving close relative. This was his second trip to the asylum, having been taken there in 1889. He has been considered queer since that time. Last week he came to Rochester, and terminated a series of peculiar actions by stealing a pocketbook from a relative in southwest Rochester. His arrest followed a foot race with the officers.

An application to Longcliff was made today for Miss Miriam BALL, sister of Isaac Ball, who had been living with him at Marstown.

Word was received here Sunday morning that Mrs. Adeline ZOLMAN, a former resident of this county, committed suicide at Longcliff asylum at Logansport, late the same evening.

The message was sent to Milo [ZOLMAN] and Harley ZOLMAN, two sons who live in this city. Mrs. Zolman was the wife of John ZOLMAN, who is now living in Whitley county. She has been confined to the asylum for about two years.

Mrs. Zolman is the daughter of Nathan ZOLMAN and the sister of S. P. ZOLMAN, of Newcastle township. When about twenty years of age she married her cousin. Only two children are living. Val Zimmerman brought the body to Rochester where the funeral will be held.

It was also learned at Longcliff today that Mrs. Zolman hung herself with her apron, tying one end to the steel which barred her cell window, and looping the other end about her neck.

Wesley FENIMORE, who carried mail between Rochester and Fulton for over fifteen years, died at his home in Royal Center Sunday, age 65.

Until four years ago Mr. Fenimore was a resident of Fulton where he took an active part in the life of the community. He was a very active member of the Odd Fellows lodge. When the rural routes were started out of Rochester Mr. Fenimore discontinued his services to the government.

Mr. Fenimore has three children living, a daughter in Ft. Wayne and Charles [FENIMORE] and Henry FENIMORE. J. T. FENIMORE of this city is a brother of the deceased.

Special to the Sentinel

Akron, Ind., July 2 -- Hiram B. WHITTENBERGER died Wednesday morning at his home in Larwill, Ind., at the age of 79 years.

Deceased was the youngest son of the William WHITTENBERGER family, one of those that settled in Akron in 1836. The ten sons of this family helped to establish the town of Akron. Daniel [WHITTENBERGER], of Akron, is the remaining member of the family and is in his 90th year.

Hiram lived here until 1869, locating at Larwill in that year, where he was engaged in general merchandise until three years ago, failing health compelling him to retire. He enlisted in the Civil War in November 1861, at the first call for volunteers, served his country until February 14, 1863, when he was honorably discharged.

He is survived by two sons and his aged wife. Mr. Whittenberger kept in close touch with friends of boyhood years, and outlived the greater number of them. His frequent visits to Akron were a great pleasure to relatives and friends. The funeral will occur at Larwill Friday afternoon.

Another version of the death of Isaac BALL in Longcliff last Monday was published Wednesday in the Logansport Pharos-Recorder. It is as follows:

“The body of Isaac Ball, who died Monday at Longcliff hospital from the effects of injuries received in an insane collision between Ball and another patient at the Cliff, was taken to Rochester in Fulton county, where the body will be cared for by relatives.

“According to the finding of the officers at the hospital, Ball entered the room of another patient Saturday, was ordered out by the other patient and refused to go. The patient attacked Ball, knocked him to the floor and jumped upon him with both feet. After the insane assailant was gotten under control it was found that Ball was suffering from internal hemorrhages, and that a splintered rib had punctured some of the vital organs. Death ensued a short time later.”

According to the report reaching the Sentinel, Ball was not killed by the other patient but rather expired in a convulsion brought on by the scuffle.

Lee WADE, of Lynn, Mass., an instructor in woodcraft at Culver Military Academy, who was taken to Chicago on a special train Monday suffering from poison, died Wednesday night at a hospital. It is said he mistook the poison tablets for a cathartic.

The report of Coroner F. D. LOUGH, who investigated the sudden death of the three months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin HOLLOWAY, who reside near the Pendleton bridge, west of town, was returned late Wednesday afternoon. The verdict stated that the child died of suffocation.

It is not known whether the child died on account of being under the bedding or whether the close atmosphere of the room suddenly choked her. The child's head, however, was on the outside of the bedding when she was found Wednesday morning by her parents.

The funeral was held this morning, burial being made in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

After an illness estending over two years Mrs. Melvin TRUE died at the Woodlawn hospital Sunday morning. The necessity of an operation became apparent last week when she was removed to the hospital. Although she withstood the operation well, the attending physicians held but little hope for her recovery. Mrs. True was past 54 years of age. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at one-thirty at Mt. Zion. Rev. F. Z. BURKETTE will have charge of the services.

Tryphena STEFFY was born in Fulton county, Indiana, October 28th, 1859, and departed this life July 19, 1914, aged fifty-four years, six months and 21 days. During the year of 1877 she was united in marriage with Wm. H. KEEL, and to this union two sons were born: Guy [KEEL], whose home is in Aztec, New Mexico, and William H. KEEL, Jr., of Argos, Indiana. Having been left a widow she was married to Melvin TRUE February 8th, 1888. The result of this union was the birth of Raymond I. [TRUE], who died when only six years old; Rosa Pearl [TRUE], and Walter L. [TRUE], who survive the mother.

Mrs. True was converted sixteen years ago, and with her husband united with the Methodist church at Green Oak.

Being of a reserved disposition, she did not mingle much with those outside her own household, but her kindly greetings, neighborly charity, and warm welcome always held out to her friends and neighbors have won for her the loving confidence of all who knew her.

Following the death of a wife and mother, then the tragic deaths of two daughters-in-law, now comes the messenger again, claiming another wife and mother.

Mrs. True's health began to fail more than two years ago, but until within the last month her condition was not alarming. The best of medical skill obtainable, the loving administrations of husband and friends, and the best wishes of the entire community could not arrest the inevitable. Besides the relatives named above, there are one brother and one sister, the last of a family of eleven children, seven grandchildren, and others more distantly related.

The missing man is about 35 years of age and is a well know character in that neighborhood. When he left home six weeks ago he put on his old clothes and went out of the door with the remark to his father that Bowen lake was good enough for him. Thinking that he might have drowned himself in the lake which lies near his home, 25 neighbors dragged the small body of water Monday. Nothing was found or any evidence collected which lead the searchers to think that Morgan had been near the lake.

Isaac Washington BROWN, familiarly known as "Colonel," Rochester's well known bird and bee man, closed sixty-six years of activity Monday night at 10:35 o'clock, when he passed away suddenly in his home on west 16th street following an attack of acute bronchitis.

Colonel Brown was in Chicago last week, was taken ill with indigestion and returned home Wednesday. His condition was not considered serious until Monday afternoon when matters took a turn for the worse. Acute bronchitis suddenly developed and the Colonel died before Mrs. Brown could reach a telephone to summon Dr. Charles GOULD who had been in charge of the case.

Colonel Brown was known all over the middle west and parts of the east as the "Bird and Bee Man," specializing in lectures on these subjects. He never disdained to speak publicly, but confined most of his efforts to school buildings, it being no exaggeration to say that hundreds of thousands of pupils have heard him speak. It was while he was engaged in this work that he attracted the attention of Miss Helen GOULD in 1904. She sent him to Texas where he studied the boll weevil and the Hessian fly, and then lectured for three years under her, at a substantial salary, filled numerous Winona engagements and spoke in the large Eastern cities. At this time he assembled a tidy fortune, which has been more or less cut down since by unfortunate investments. He essayed to run a model meat market, bought considerable property, and visited the Chicago board of trade, where he was a well known figure for many years.

Isaac Washington BROWN, son of John D. and Rebecca BROWN, was born in Carroll County, Indiana, May 27, 1848. He ran away from home when 16 years of age joined the 135th Infantry and served during the war of the rebellion. He came to Rochester in 1870 and entered a law office, but practiced very little. He was united in marriage with Emma STRONG, December 25th, 1872. To this union two sons were born, DeWitt [BROWN], Raiford, Fla., and Ray [BROWN], Seymour, Indiana. There also survive besides the widow, two brothers, Will [BROWN] of Tipton, Ind., and James [BROWN] of Hoopston, Ill., and three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie CULLER, Indianapolis, Mrs. Nellie ROWLEY, Rochester, Mrs. Mell THURBER, New York City.

Col. Brown was a member of the I.O.O.F. and K. of P. lodges. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon in charge of Odd Fellows.

Colonel Isaac W. BROWN was probably Rochester's most picturesque character, and a legion of friends will join his family in their grief. It is doubtful if there lives another man who had a similar life work and it is certain that the good done by the "bird and bee" man will live long after him. He was peculiar, yes and like most prophets, without great honor in his home community, but his efforts had results. While not a naturalist, he knew much of nature, especially of bird and insect life, and he made practical use of his knowledge. He was a genuine friend of winged creatures and they, as well as the people, will miss the "Colonel."

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto CARLSON died Saturday evening about eight o'clock. Funeral Sunday morning.

Searchers Sunday afternoon found the body of Isaac DORAN, Peru contactor, well known here, in the old stone quarry of the Wabash river bed just west of the city. He had left his home Friday afternoon evidently out of his mind, and had ended his life by jumping into the river. Bandages from a wound in his throat were found near the scene.

Doran, it will be remembered, was found in the rear of the Scott hotel at Peru some time ago suffering with a deep gash in his throat. The police scouted the story Doran told about being attacked by a large negro and several of the neighborhood hinted at an attempted suicide. However no weapon of any kind was found near Doran.

Mrs. Taylor JEFFERIES, of Talma, sister of the dead man, went to Peru Saturday, where she learned that he was missing.

She wished to live to rear her children with her companion but was submissive to the Lord's will and it was His will to take her to himself. We cannot understand but we know He does all things well. She was respected and loved by all who knew her and the host of sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the entire community. Rev. E. M. KUONEN officiated and burial was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery of this place. - - - RICHLAND CENTER ITEMS.

Despondent because his wife had refused to live with him, Fred CARTER, age 22, a son of James CARTER and a well known young man of Kewanna, committed suicide Mnday afternoon by shooting himself through the heart.

The act took place at the home of his grandfather, J. J. CARTER, who lives in Kewanna. The young man left the family after the dinner hour and went to his room up stairs. After remaining there for a few minutes, he shot himself with a revolver. He was dead before a physician could be summoned.

Fred Carter has been married twice and was the father of one child. His first wife passed away several years ago. His second wife left him during the summer and refused to come back. A sister of the deceased committed suicide several years ago by drinking carbolic acid. It is said at the time that the act was caused by a love affair. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of his father near Kewanna. He leaves a father, mother, wife and two sisters.

Dr. H. E. BENNETT, one of the leading physicians of Mentone and a very prominent citizen of that place, was found dead in his bed at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Death was due to heart trouble, of which disease he had been a sufferer for a number of years.

Dr. Bennett apparently was as well as usual on Saturday and was busy answering calls throughout the day, concluding the day's work by visiting two patients late in the evening. He retired at about 10 o'clock, sleeping on a cot in a room adjoining his office in order to be near his telephone and answer calls, if necessary. At about 7:30 o'clock on Sunday morning, his wife entered the room and found him dead.

Dr. Bennett was about 50 years of age and besides his wife leaves two sons, Herbert BENNETT, who resides at Burket, and Roy BENNETT, who is unmarried and lives at home.

After an illness extending over a year, Mrs. Margaret GREGSON, one of the oldest residents of this county, died Friday night at the home of her friend, Mrs. Wilson BOLES, on south Franklin Avenue. Mrs. Gregson was past 78 years of age.

Death was caused by Bright's disease and complications following the removal of a cancer. About eight months ago, while still living in her home on east Ninth street, Mrs. Gregson underwent an operation for the removal of a cancer on the breast. She never fully recovered and about two months ago was taken to the home of Wilson BOLES where she died. With Rev. Samuel McNEELY of Tiosa officiating, there was held at the Talma Christian church Tuesday the funeral of Rebecca BUSENBURG, 87, daughter of Peter and Nancy BUSENBURG, who died Sunday at the home of Mrs. Henry BATZ.

She was born in Knox county, O., Feb. 15, 1827, and was united in marriage Nov. 28, 1845 with John GROVES. To this union were born three children, two of which preceded her in death.

On July 31, 1889 her husband died and she later was married to Ephriam TIPTON. After a few years she was again left alone by the death of her husband and was married to Allen HENRY of Tipton, Ind. In a short time she was left again, since which time she has lived with her daughter, Mrs. Batz.

The early life of "Aunt Becca," as she was familiarly known, was spent in Coshocton county, Ohio, near her childhood home where she joined the church in which she was so faithful and loyal. Later with her husband and family she moved to Newcastle township, Fulton county, Indiana, and being one of the early settlers endured the hardships of a pioneer life, she and her husband being two of the founders of the Christian church at Talma.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Henry BATZ; two grandchildren, Mrs. M. R. KIZER and Isaac BATZ; four great-grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild and a host of other relatives and friends.

Levi LEITER received a message this morning telling of the death of Mrs. Lydia LATON in an Indianapolis hospital. Mrs. Laton was formerly Miss [Lydia] MEREDITH, and for several years taught Latin in the high school.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct 21 -- Coroner DURHAM is conducting an investigation of the death of Nathan Lee SHIELDS, 37, who died at the Deaconess hospital Saturday, supposedly from injuries suffered when run down by an inbound Pennsylvania train near Plainfield that morning. Shields' legs were cut off and it was supposed this caused his death. When Coroner Durham began his investigation, however, he found three knife wounds on the body, one deep one near the heart.

It is thought that Shields, realizing after he was run down that he would be crippled for life, stabbed himself in an effort at suicide. A bloody knife was found in his coat pocket. According to his brother, Shields had brooded over the death of a sister, Miss Bessie [SHIELDS], who died last spring.

Another theory is advanced that Shields was stabbed and then thrown under the train. His brother, Fred [SHIELDS], who lives in Indianapolis, swears that he never saw the knife before, and that he gave his brother another knife not long ago.

Shields appears to have been something of a man of mystery. He lived in Indianapolis until about fifteen years ago. Then he disappeared, asserting that he was going to the West to seek his fortune. His brother, according to the statement made to the coroner, heard nothing from him until about two years ago. Then he got into communication with the wanderer, and prevailed on him to come home. He arrived here in June in response to the appeals of his brother. Three weeks later his sister died.

Miss Fannie SHIELDS, a sister, of Akron, Ind., is here and will take charge of the body after the investigation is finished. Trainmen were to be examined today.

Blinded by a bonnet which she was wearing and further handicapped by deafness, Mrs. Fred GRAEBER, Sr., 67, a life long resident of this city, was struck and instantly killed this morning at the target at eight o'clock by west bound Erie passenger train number 229.

For 27 years Mrs. Fred Graeber had lived within 30 feet of the two railroads, the Lake Erie and Erie, at the point where they cross in East Rochester. To her trains have ever been a familiar sight and though deaf, she was in the habit of crossing the tracks at least once a day, when every morning she walked to the farm home of William LIGHTFOOT for milk.

The accident was witnessed by Isaac CREVISTON, an Erie employe, who was walking toward the target at the time. He said that he was about 100 feet from the crossing when Mrs. Graeber came from her home and crossed the south track. When in the center of the north track the aged woman changed her course and started to walk directly in front of the oncoming train which was only a few feet away. The bonnet which she was wearing prevented a view of the train and although the whistle blew loudly for the crossing she did not hear.

A matter of four or five seconds would have saved her life. When in the center of the track, according to the only eye witness, Mr. Creviston, Mrs. Graeber saw the train and made every effort to get out of the way, but she was too late. The pilot beam of the engine struck her in the back as she stepped over the north rail, crushed her frail body and jammed her head first into a net work of wires and iron rods which at that point ran along the side of the track. She was instantly killed, the fatal wounds being on her head, which was partly crushed.

The train stopped and backed up to the crossing and with the help of M. C. JONES the towerman, the body was carried to the home, a few feet away. As the body was mangled the ambulance was called and it was taken to the morgue. The home which had suffered so sudden a blow was soon crowded with friends and relatives of the family.

Mrs. Fred GRAEBER was born in Germany and came to this country with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig MARSHALL, when she was but three years old. Mrs. Graeber was 67 years old on the 10th day of December, 1913. On the 10th day of December 1868, in Richland township, this county, Miss Margaret MARSHALL and Fred GRAEBER were married. They were the parents of nine children, seven of whom are living. They are: Floyd [GRAEBER], Max [GRAEBER] and Harry [GRAEBER] of this city, Fred [GRAEBER] of California, Mrs. Emma LONG of Texas, Mrs. Mary INGRAHAM of Pennsylvania, and Miss Etta GRAEBER of Ft. Wayne. Mrs. Graeber has two brothers and two sisters living, John [MARSHALL] and George MARSHALL of this county, and Mrs. Louise ZINK of South Bend and Mrs. Lydia KERLER who lives north of Rochester. Mrs. Charley KIME, a daughter and Ernest GRAEBER, a son, died several years ago.

The funeral of Mannasseh LEEDY, of this place, on last Friday afternoon, was largely attended. He was nearly 67 years of age. He suffered a long time with stomach trouble which was thought to be cancer, but a post mortem was held and two peach seeds were found lodged in his stomach and by their appearance had been there for a long time. It is thought that they caused most all of his trouble. He leaves to mourn their loss a host of relatives and friends, but he was ready to go and our loss is but his gain. - - - RICHLAND CENTER ITEMS.

SAMUEL BRICKLE WAS FAMOUS

"Who has not heard of Brickle's Linement?" queries the Argos Reflector and then continues. "Few of us are unfamiliar with that name, but it is probable that a still smaller number of local readers knew of the identity or whereabouts of the 'inventor' of that erstwhile famous household remedy?"

"Back in the 70's and the 80's, Samuel BRICKLE, with his humble medicine wagon, was as regular in his periodic visits through the rural districts of this community as our own "Doc" HOFFMAN is now. Samuel Brickle with his beard cut ala Horace Greeley, seemed quite an old and decrepit man during his later visits which became less frequent and finally ceased entirely.

"Children then unborn have grown to manhood and womanhood, a generation has passed and most of us had quite forgotten the old peddler. Now we hear that Samuel Brickle, the original and only patentee of the aforesaid household remedy, died at the county farm infirmary near Rochester, on Monday of last week, Nov. 29, his ninetieth birthday! He had been a citizen of Rochester for half a century."

Edward S. FULTZ, 53, ex-sheriff of Fulton county and a prominent democrat, died at 5:30 this morning at his farm home two miles northeast of Rochester. Mr. Fultz had been in failing health for five years as the result of paralysis, the last attack on Tuesday evening of this week, causing death.

Five years ago he suffered an attack of paralysis which left him in very poor health. Noted physicians in many cities were consulted and for a while it was thought that he had fully recovered. From the last attack, Mr. Fultz never rallied, dying this morning. The members of the family and his close relatives were at the bedside.

Edward S. FULTZ was one of the best sheriffs that this county ever had. Elected November 3, 1898, he served for the next four years, being re-elected for his second term by a good majority. Mr. Fultz was tireless in the performance of his duties and secured a reputation as an efficient official. He attracted the attention of the state by capturing Roy JONES, the man charged with kidnapping Nellie BERGER. Sheriff Fultz followed Jones to Columbus, Ind., where the arrest was made.

Mr. Fultz was born in this county in 1860, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel FULTZ. Twenty-seven years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Nora HOLMES, who survives him. They have one daughter, Miss Mildred FULTZ. Mr. Fultz lived on a farm all of his life with the exception of four years spent in office. A year ago he sold out and took a smaller place nearer Rochester. He was a member of the K. of P. lodge, the Macabbees, the Modern Woodmen and the Fulton County Horse Thief Detective Association. He leaves one brother and one sister, Mrs. Sadie HEIGHWAY of near Akron, and Benton FULTZ, who lives in the state of Washington. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Adam K. DAINE, aged about 80, died Wednesday evening at his home near Gilead after an extended illness. He was the father of Peter [DAINE] and Charles DAINE, both of this city. Funeral Sunday afternoon at one o'clock.

Mrs. Henry [O.] BLACKBURN, 47, of near Green Oak, died Wednesday morning, a victim of tuberculosis. She had suffered with the disease for over ten years.

Mrs. Blackburn [Minnie L. CAMERER] was the daughter of Jacob CAMERER, and her brother Edward CAMERER died less than a year ago. Mrs. Blackburn leaves two sons, Lyman [BLACKBURN] and Carl BLACKBURN, the latter married and living near the home place. Mrs. Blackburn has one sister, Mrs. Addie QUICK, of near Athens, and one brother, Omar CAMERER, who lives south of Rochester. Mrs. Blackburn was a member of the Methodist church of Green Oak and of the Rebekah lodge of the same place.

A telegram was received from Hammond this morning saying that Harley CLEMANS, who was injured Tuesday, died early this morning. His wife, who left here Tuesday afternoon, arrived before he passed away. The body was brought to the home in Rochester this afternoon, arriving on the train due here at 1:40 p.m.

It was learned this morning that the injuries which caused his death was due to a broken jack which gave way when he was under a car.

It seems that Mr. Clemans was working on a freight car which needed repairing and which had been lifted off of the trucks. It was necessary to get under the car and a jack screw was used to raise the structure several feet above the ground. Mr. Clemans then crawled under and while in this position, the jack broke letting one end of the car fall across his stomach.

The tremendous weight mashed his body nearly flat and he was compelled to lay in this position for some time until his helper ran and secured several men who blocked up the car and pulled Mr. Clemans out. He was taken to the hospital, where the physicians found at once that he was fatally injured.

Harley Clemans was well known in this city where he had lived for several years. His parents live in the vicinity of Athens. He had worked for the Erie railroad for a number of years. He leaves a wife and two children.

According to word which has been received here by Mrs. Abe BEREBITSKY, wife of the well known junk man, her brother, whose name translated into English was something like Willie Turotzsky, has been killed while serving in the Russian army in Poland.

Turotzsky, who was 39 years old, leaves a wife and three children who are in dire need, and the Berebitskys are aiding them as much as possible. They live in the town of Schek (pronounced Schastz), in Minsky-Governny. Turotzsky had an orchard which he had rented from the government, paying 500 rubles for its use. He was called away before he was able to handle the yield, his family could get no help, there was little market for apples, and they lost all.

As a result, came the appeal from the Czar's land and it will be answered by Abe and his wife, who never do things by halves. Just where Mrs. Berebitsky's brother was killed, was not learned, but he doubtless fell in Poland, where Russian troops have done most of their fighting. Turotzsky was a Russian Jew.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah FEECE of near Culver was held Monday at the Athens U. B. church at 1 o'clock. Rev. BALLOU of this city had charge. Mrs. Feece was 88 years old and was the widow of Jacob FEECE.

Augustine HISEY, 69, ex-county commissioner, died at his farm home one-half mile south of Tiosa at 12:30 today (Thursday) after a long illness of diabetes. He had been seriously ill for four weeks.

Mr. Hisey was one of the best known farmers of the county, having lived on his place for 33 years. The farm he owned was his father's before him, and he worked hard, acquiring a comfortable fortune. In 1898 he was persuaded to make the race for commissioner on the democratic ticket, was elected but not re-elected. He was a member of the Evangelical Lutheran church near Tiosa. His disease came upon him four years ago, and gradually grew worse, compelling him to take his bed about a month ago. The family expected the end.

Augustine HISEY was born in Columbiana county, O., in 1845, the son of Jacob and Hannah HISEY, who moved with their family to this county about 1875. In 1881, Mr. Hisey was married to Mrs. Mary E. STRAWBRIDGE, at Macy, Ind., and at once took up a residence on his father's farm. To them was born one child, Mrs. Emma EASH, who has been dead eight years. Her husband, Frank [EASH] died several years ago, leaving two children, Mildred [EASH] and Edward [EASH]. Levi LEEDY, 69, a lifelong resident of Denver, was found Monday afternoon lying unconscious in a wood box near a kitchen range. The discovery was made by P. F. THARPE, a painter and paper hanger. The aged man expired six hours later. Death is said to have been due to apoplexy.

According to Tharpe, the dead man fell into the box but a few minutes prior to Tharpe's visit to the Leedy home, where he resided alone. Leedy never rallied, despite the efforts of his physician.

Eli ZARTMAN, age 50, one of the leading business men of Kewanna and well known over Fulton county, died at the Baldwin hospital Tuesday evening in Peru as the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Zartman has been ill for over a year and about two weeks ago he was taken to a hospital in Peru. During the last few days it was thought he would recover and his death Tuesday evening was totally unexpected.

Eli Zartman had a varied business experience in this county and during his 30 years of active life made a comfortable fortune. He was born near Macy, the son of Jackson ZARTMAN, who died about 22 years ago, also a victim of apoplexy. When about 22 years of age, Mr. Zartman entered the threshing business, in which he stayed for several years. He then started a store at Leiters Ford and sold harness and implements for two years, then moved to Macy and entered the meat business with Lee MILLER, now of this city.

Selling out a year later, Mr. Zartman again entered the implement business at Macy with Harry RUNKLE with whom he remained for over a year, then moved to Akron and with Wm. C. MILLER started another implement and hardware store. Mr. Miller and Mr. Zartman remained together for 13 years, after which the latter sold his interest to his partner.

Mr. Zartman then started a hardware store at Kewanna where he has been for the last eight years.

Through all of his business transactions Mr. Zartman made many friends and always had the reputation of being on the square. He was a diligent man and because of his ceaseless activity, became afflicted about a year ago with nervous trouble, which later caused his death.

Mr. Zartman leaves a wife and adopted daughter, Imogene ZARTMAN, and three brothers, Charles [ZARTMAN], Irvin [ZARTMAN] and Samuel ZARTMAN who live east of Fulton. Mr. Zartman was a member of the Methodist church.

The funeral will be held at Macy Friday morning at 10:30, the body being taken direct to that town.

According to word received here by his aunt, Mrs. Sol ALLMAN, Theodore GREENEWALD, a Philadelphia box manufacturer, and husband of Miss Bertha LAUER, formerly of Rochester, died suddenly at his home today (Thursday [sic]). Greenewald had been ill for some time, but not seriously so, and his sudden end was a shock to Mrs. Allman, his wife's mother's sister. He was for years a clothing salesman who visited Rochester regularly, and was popular because of his musical talent. Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, age six.
