Ray WALLER, 36, died Friday in a hospital at Okmulgee, Okla, after several weeks illness, following an operation for appendicis. He is a son of D. A. WALLER, of this city. His home was in Okamah, Okla., where he was an active real estate dealer and was also in the oil business. Besides his father and several brothers and sisters, he leaves a wife. Mr. Waller left this city about 10 years ago and went to Oklahoma. He attended the Rochester Normal College and was a graduate of the commercial course. Mrs. Archie BROWN, of this city, and Mrs. Warren SMITH, of Huntington, sisters of Mr. Waller, left last week for Okmulgee to see their brother, but he passed away before they reached there. He was buried in Okemah on New Years day.

Dr. S. C. LORING, 51, of Plymouth, brother of Dr. C. J. LORING, of this city, died at midnight Monday following a stroke of apoplexy earlier in the day. Dr. Loring had suffered a stroke in February, 1921, and has been practically invalided since. He was well known among the northern Indiana medical profession and especially well known in Rochester Masonic circles. He had been a resident of Plymouth for the past 20 years and he is survived by the widow, Mrs. Carrie LORING and a daughter, who lives in Chicago. Funeral services from the Methodist church at Plymouth Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

Dr. C. J. Loring, of this city, was called to his brother's bedside when he suffered his relapse Monday morning and remained with him until death came, returning to this city Tuesday morning.

Word has been received here of the death at Mishawaka Sunday evening of Irvin ELLIS, 18, son of Mrs. Mary ELLIS, who lives a mile south of Argos on the Michigan road. Ellis, who had just recently been married, had been spending the Christmas holidays with relatives in Mishawaka when he was taken suddenly ill with a critical attack of appendicitis. He was taken to a hospital where an operation was performed, but death could not be averted. A brother, who was also visiting at Mishawaka, was also taken critically ill with the same affliction and is now confined to the hospital at Mishawaka. The body has been returned to Argos for burial.

Carlos FEIKERT, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William FEIKERT, just north of Argos, died within five minutes after being accidentally shot thru the lungs while hunting with his cousin, Andrew LEFFERT, Monday.

Feikert, who had been married just before Christmas to Miss Mary HISEY, of Argos, and was living with his parents, went hunting for rabbits Monday with his cousin. The two young men had scared up a rabbit, which went into a brush pile on the Feikert farm.

As the hunters poked around in the pile to get the rabbit out it suddenly dashed into view and both of the boys reached for their guns. As he swung about Leffert in some manner still unknown to him, suddenly discharged his weapon. The shot from the gun went into Feikert's right side penetrating the upper portion of his right lung.

He fell over and Leffert rushed to him. Feikert told Leffert that he realized that he was dying fast. He kissed his cousin goodbye and asked that he be remembered to all his relatives and friends. With his last breath he exonerated Leffert from blame in the accident and then passed away.

Feikert was well known in Argos where he had lived practically all of his life. He was a member of the K. of P. lodge, a graduate of the Argos schools and was a member of the Argos band. He had been married only a brief time and had planned to look after his father's farm, his father planning to move into Argos some time in the near future. Surviving are the parents, the widow and three sisters.

A message from Crown Point to Newcastle township relatives brings the sad information of the death of Prof. Frank F. HEIGHWAY at his home there Monday evening. He had been an invalid for three years with neuritis. He was fifty-six years old and leaves a widow and one daughter, his aged father, Albert HEIGHWAY, and other near relatives. He was born in Newcastle township and began his career as an educator in Fulton county and Rochester. Later he went to Crown Point as principal of the high school, was soon promoted to superintendent, and for fifteen years had been county superintendent of Lake County Schools. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, a member of the State Board of Education and was once offered the State Superintendency of Schools but his health would not permit his accepting.

Prof. Heighway was a brother of John HEIGHWAY, who with his family of three, was killed on the Winona Interurban last Spring and his is the fifth death in his immediate family since last March, his aged mother having passed away only two months ago.

Stockberger's body, which entered the machine feet foremost, was crushed and torn horribly and it is believed he would have been entirely dismembered and his head itself crushed had the machine made but one more revolution before it was stopped.

He lived in this county all of his life with the exception of visits made to California, where he met his wife, formerly Miss Violet DAY, of San Diego, to whom he was married less than two years ago.

Relatives of South Zion have received word of the death of Butler BATZ, aged 70 years, at Bakersfield, Calif. He was born in Newcastle township, this county, but went to California when a young man. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Isaac EDGINGTON, north of Leiters Ford, and one sister in California.

William [GOTTSCHALK], four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John GOTTSCHALK, of near Grass Creek, died Wednesday morning, presumably from the effects of running a sliver into his foot.

The accident occurred on October 3, 1921 and the sliver had been in the foot all the time until Tuesday when the lad was brought to a Rochester physician, who removed the splinter, which measured an inch in length and was about an eighth of an inch in thickness and was deeply imbedded in the flesh.

The boy had been under the care of his family physician from the time that the sliver was found, and had been taken also to Kewanna where efforts to locate the splinter were futile. Later as the foot became infected, an X-ray was taken at a Logansport hospital, but even this failed to indicate the presence of the splinter, and it was deemed more or less of a fortunate occurrence that it was found by the Rochester physician on Tuesday.

The boy and his parents were much delighted at the removal of the splinter when the left Rochester for home Tuesday, but before they arrived at their destination the lad was stricken with convulsions.

When the convulsions subsided the injured boy went into a deep stupor and did not regain consciousness before death came.

The case is considered very peculiar, in that there were no indications of tetanus when the operation was performed and the convulsions indicate that it was tetanus that caused the death. It was stated that possibly embolism, which is the formation of a blood clot in the circulatory system, generally locating in the brain or heart, occurred. This would make the death easily accountable, but it seems highly improbable on account of the convulsions experienced before death.

Mrs. Samantha MURDEN, 73, wife of Lafayette MURDEN, died Thursday morning at the home of her son, Hugh FENTERS of Macy, following a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Murden was the mother of Homer FENTERS, sheriff of Miami county, Frank FENTERS, Fulton county farmer and Clarence FENTERS, also of Macy.

Surviving are the mother, Mrs. Hanna DuBOIS, the widow, Mrs. Cora DuBOIS, seven children, Helen [DuBOIS], Edgar [DuBOIS], Thelma [DuBOIS], Albert [DuBOIS], Gilhelmus [DuBOIS] and Cleo [DuBOIS] and Leo [DuBOIS], the latter twins, and two brothers, Thomas J. DuBOIS, of Green Oak, and William DuBOIS of Denver.

Word was received in this city late Friday afternoon of the death at his farm home southwest of Rochester of George FINNEY, well known Fulton county farmer. Finney suffered a stroke of paralysis several days ago and failed to overcome the effects of the stroke.

Oren YOUNG, 24, better known to his many friends as "Rodney," died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William YOUNG, on East 10th Street, about eight o'clock Friday evening. Death came as the result of paralysis and abscesses on the head.

Harry MARTIN, 35, well known automobile agent and garage proprietor of this city, died at eight o'clock Friday evening in a hospital at Defiance, Ohio, as the result of injuries sustained near Defiance Thursday evening, when he was struck by a car driven by A. J. GLEICHAUFF, of Nark, Ohio. Martin suffered a fractured skull when Gleichauff, who is being held in jail at Defiance, and who was said to have been intoxicated at the time of the accident, drove his car into the rear end of the Martin car and struck Martin himself. Martin had been outside his car making an adjustment and was about to drive on. The fractured skull resulted in severe concussion of the brain, and while an operation was performed to remove the pressure, he died 25 hours after the accident without having regained consciousness.

Mrs. Martin was with him at the time of his death. He had been enroute from Toledo, O., in company with A. R. MILLS, of Fulton with two Overland cars, for which he was the agent, when the accident occurred.

The body was removed from Defiance to Peru by train Saturday morning and taken overland to the home north of Rochester Saturday afternoon. The mother, Mrs. Ella MARTIN, north of Rochester, started for Defiance to be with her son, when she received word at Peru that he had died.

Harry Martin was born in Fulton county near Mt. Zion, July 8, 1887. He was reared on the farm in that locality, where he remained until he attained young manhood. Later he moved to Peru, where he engaged in the furniture business and was subsequently married to Miss Alta MYERS, of Logansport in 1916. Three years ago he returned to this locality and has since been engaged in the automobile business in Rochester. Surviving are the mother, the widow, and one son, Emerson [MARTIN], aged 10 years.

A noticeable incident concerning the accident and death is the fact that, according to report and entirely unknown to his family, Martin had recently taken out a $5,000 life insurance policy with double indemnity clause in the event of accidental death, which means that his estate will receive $10,000 from the insurance company.

Gleichauff, it has been stated by Sheriff ZEACHKE, of Defiance, would be prosecuted for driving a car while intoxicated in the event of Martin's recovery, which leads to the assumption that since Martin's death, charges of manslaughter will be preferred.

Word was received here late this afternoon that the father of L. E. DILLMAN, of this city, had died. No particulars are available.

Miss Sarah WENTZEL, 78, died Tuesday at her home near Bruce Lake following a stroke of paralysis suffered Saturday night. A most unfortunate and mysterious circumstance has arisen in connection with the recent death and burial of Miss Sarah WENTZEL, which was fully detailed in the Kewanna paper of March 24th. As soon as she died a message was sent to her brother, Jacob WENTZEL, of Clara City, Minn. He informed the messenger that he would not be able to come to Kewanna for the funeral but later decided to come and started at once. Last Friday, Harry WENTZEL received a letter from Mrs. Jacob WENTZEL at Clara City stating the above facts and adding that she had not seen him or heard from him since the day he started for Kewanna to attend the funeral of his sister. She (Mrs. Jacob Wentzel) has just recently returned home from the hospital where she underwent an operation for gall stones and states that she is naturally greatly exercised about her husband and asks for information of the Kewanna relatives. J. S. WENTZEL stated on Tuesday that none of the relatives hereabouts know anything whatever of Jake's whereabouts and the receipt of this letter last Friday was the first inkling they had that he had even started for Kewanna. - - - - KEWANNA HERALD.

Howard CURTIS, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon CURTIS, west of Rochester, committed suicide at about 8:30 o'clock Monday morning by swallowing a quantity of carbolic acid. Refusal of Miss Leotta HUNTER, daughter of Mrs. Charles FREEMAN, to marry him, was believed to be the cause of the act.

Curtis, who is a farm laborer, had been having trouble with his parents over the girl, Miss Hunter, and as a result he left home about a week ago, and went to the Benjamin NOFTSGER farm home, where he was employed at the time of his suicide, and lived there alone.

Sunday he took Miss Hunter riding in his car, and while she was driving, she lost control of it and it went into the ditch. Later in the day he secured assistance in rescuing the machine, which was not badly damaged. Neither he nor Miss Hunter were injured in the accident.

Sunday evening he called upon Mr. and Mrs. Francis ZEGAFUSE, who reside near the Noftsgger farm, and carried on a conversation as usual, except just as he was leaving for home at about 10 o'clock in the evening Mr. Zegafuse, noticing a parcel wrapped in newspaper, chided him about "batching it" and asked him if he had a part of his meal wrapped in the paper. At this Curtis merely sobered and looked at the package and said nothing. It is believed that this parcel contained the carbolic acid.

This was all that was heard of Curtis until Monday morning at about 6:30 o'clock. At this time he telephoned to Mrs. Joseph BARNETT, who resides near the home of his parents, and asked Mrs. Barnett to tell his father to come to the Noftsgger farm right away. Mrs. Barnett asked him if his father should bring a wagon, and he replied yes. That was the extent of the conversation with Mrs. Barnett.

The message was delivered to the father, who at once hitched up, arriving at the Noftsgar farm at 10 o'clock, to find his son lying on a spring cot dead .

Mr. Curtis summoned aid at once. Coroner STINSON, of Athens, was called and pronounced the case one of suicide. A search was made for a bottle in which he may have had the acid, but this could not be found.

It - - - was found near him with a small quantity of carbolic acid in the bottom of it. He had evidently drank the death-dealing poison from this tumbler and in taking it must have thrown it down his throat, for he was not burned about the face or mouth, the first burns showing up deep in the throat.

The body was yet warm when the father arrived, and Coroner Stinson stated that in his opinion he had died at about nine o'clock, evidently having taken the poison immediately after phoning for his father. Curtis was lying fully dressed on the cot, which gave evidence of his suffering before death came.

Knowing of the trouble with his parents over the Hunter girl, led friends to believe that her alleged refusal to marry him was the cause of his act.

The following note which was found on a table folded was all that he left behind to explain his deed:

"Monday Morning, April 24, 1922.

"Whoever finds this letter, please call Ben NOFTSGER and tell him what has happened to me. I have nothing to say about him. He is the best man I ever worked for. I have said this morning everything but was my last time. I am in trouble and I took this plan to end them. Whoever finds this letter take me home.

"Howard Curtis."

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon CURTIS, five sisters, Mrs Myrtle HERD, and Mrs. Chloe KINGERY, of Kewanna, Mrs. Norabelle SHOEMAN, of Rochester, and Mabel [CURTIS] and Jennie CURTIS, at home, and three brothers, Warren [CURTIS], George [CURTIS], and Ralph CURTIS, at home.

B. F. GREEN, of this city. She leaves a husband and four children. Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at the Chili Baptist Temple. Burial at Chili.

The funeral of Leroy C. SHELTON, first Fulton county boy to fall in action in the late war was very largely attended Sunday afternoon.

The ceremony which was conducted by the Leroy C. Shelton Post of the American Legion, was very impressive. There was one of the largest turnouts of men in uniforms seen here since the close of the war.

Taking charge of the body in front of the courthouse, the procession was formed and moved to the Methodist church. Leading was Commander Earl SISSON and Chaplain Fred McCLURG of the post, followed by the colors with their guard and the Legion firing squad. The Citizens Band, members of the American Legion, members of the Women's Auxiliary, members of the Odd Fellows lodge, members of the G.A.R., the immediate family and relatives and mourners made up a long procession.

At the church Rev. S. C. NORRIS, former pastor of the deceased, at present of Culver, preached the funeral sermon. Rev. FRALEY led in prayer, while solos were sung by Mrs. Harry SUTHERLAND and Frank E. BRYANT. Following the Legion funeral ceremony was conducted by Mr. Sisson and Mr. McClurg.

The firing squad stood at "present arms" while the body was carried from the church and placed on the artillery caisson drawn by six black horses. Legion men in uniform rode the horses and the caisson as the procession marched to Main street and south to 14th street. Machines then carried all the mourners to the cemetery where the Odd Fellows first conducted their funeral ceremony and the American Legion carried out their farewell rites ending with the three volleys from the rifle squad and the blowing of "taps" by Bugler Arch TIMBERS.

Word has been received by Rochester relatives of the death in Pasadena, Calif., of Mrs. Susan MARTIN. She was well known in this city, where she lived until going to California a few years ago.

Russell EIKELBERNER, 30, of Logansport, and nephew of Mrs. Peter J. STINGLY of this city, was instantly killed Saturday night when he was thrown from a speeding automobile and his neck was broken. The driver of the car was only slightly injured.

Eikelberner was riding with his friend who had a powerful racing car, on the road between Logansport and Lake Cicot. They came up behind another automobile going the same way and attempted to turn out to go around it. Before they could get back into the road the car traveling at a high rate of speed crashed into a stone abutment at a bridge over a canal. Eikelberner was thrown 40 feet ahead of the car and was dead when picked up.

He served in the U. S. army overseas during the war. He is survived by a wife and two children. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Ellis was born near Leiters and had been a farmer in Newcastle township for many years. The first word of his illness was received at midnight Friday when it was learned that his condition was critical, while later word announced the death at three o'clock Saturday morning.

Surviving are the daughter in South Bend, Mrs. Nellie MORMAN, of Bourbon and Miss Margaret ELLIS, of Argos, four sons, Linus [ELLIS], of Tippecanoe, Robert [ELLIS], of Bremen, Elmer [ELLIS], of Hutchinson, Ka., and Jesse [ELLIS], of Logansport, and two sisters, Mrs. Henry DITMIRE and Mrs. F. Dr. and Mrs. B. F. OVERMYER, of Leiters, left early Friday afternoon for Buffalo, Arkansas, as the result of word received in Leiters of the death at that place of Robert H. DAVIDSON, 47, a brother of Mrs. Overmyer and Mrs. Martha ROUCH, also of Leiters.

The telegram received by the Leiters relatives of the man merely stated that Davidson had been killed, but in what manner the local people have not yet ascertained. Mrs. Rouch states that she does not expect to learn of the particulars until after the arrival in Buffalo of Dr. and Mrs. Overmyer.

Davidson who was a former resident of Fulton county and well known here, has lived for a number of years in Buffalo. He is survived by the widow, who wired word of the death, one daughter, Mrs. Florence NEIDERMIER, of Chicago, the two sisters at Leiters, and another sister, Mrs. GALLAGHER, of South Bend, and a brother, T. Elmer EDDINGER, aged about 50, president of the Farmers' State Bank, of Mentone, and well known thruout this section, died very suddenly Saturday afternoon following a stroke of apoplexy. Eddinger, who had been enjoying his usual health until Saturday, went with another man to Akron by motor Saturday afternoon. While there he became ill and they started for Mentone. Eddinger gradually became worse and was taken to the C. M. Tucker farm, about half of the distance home, where he died. A widow and three children survive.

Dr. and Mrs. B. F. OVERMYER, of Leiters, returned late Saturday evening from Buffalo, Arkansas, with the body of her brother, Robert H. DAVIDSON, who was killed at that place last Wednesday. When word of the death was received by Fulton county relatives, Mrs. Overmyer, Mrs. Martha ROUCH, a sister, and T. M. DAVIDSON, of Leiters, details were lacking. Upon their return here, however, Dr. Overmyer states that Davidson, a former resident of this locality, was shot and killed by moonshiners in the hills near Buffalo. Davidson, who had lived at Buffalo but a few months and was a comparative stranger, was evidently taken for a revenue officer. Two of the moonshiners implicated in the death have been arrested. Funeral services and burial were held at Leiters Monday afternoon at one o'clock.

Adam ZEGAFUSE, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. John ZEGAFUSE, killed himself at the home of his parnts, five miles west of Rochester Sunday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock. A verdict of death by suicide was pronounced by Dr. A. E. STINSON, Fulton county coroner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zegafuse had gone to Rochester Sunday afternoon to attend the Sunday school rally, and had left the son at home alone. They were returning to the home, which they reached at 4:35 o'clock in the afternoon and entered the house. As Mr. Zegafuse started to step into the living room he saw his son, Adam, lying on the floor with the entire top of his head blown off.

He attempted to intercept Mrs. Zegafuse, who followed him, but failed in this and both rushed to the boy's side. Both believed that he was still breathing when they reached him, but this is hardly thought possible by Dr. Stinson, who was summoned soon after.

Zegafuse had evidently held the end of a double-barreled shot gun to his head at a point just behind the right ear and then stooped over and pulled the trigger. He had fallen in his tracks and lay there where his parents found him. The body was still warm and the room was filled with smoke from the discharge of the shot gun, which leads to the belief that he had committed the act but a few minutes before his parents entered the house, or reached the premises, as they did not hear the report of the weapon. They believe that he must have seen them approaching from a distance and then fired the fatal shot.

His parents can assign no reason for the act, and they stick to the theory that his death was accidental, altho they can see no reason why he should have had the shot gun in the living room on Sunday afternoon.

The theory advanced by friends, however, is to the effect that he was grieving over the death of Howard CURTIS, who committed suicide a number of days ago, and at whose funeral Zegafuse had acted as pall bearer. As the two young men were not close friends, however, this seems also to be improbable. The father, however, stated that his son, who always was quiet of disposition and had little to say at any time, grew even more moody after the Curtis suicide.

He had no love affairs, nor sickness or trouble of any kind that are known to his parents or friends, and having left behind no messages of any kind, the reason for his act may always remain a complete mystery.

Adam Zegafuse was born in Fulton county at the farm home where he ended his life December 2, 1895. He had always lived on the farm with his parents and had no brothers or sisters. The body was taken to a Rochester undertaking establishment Sunday afternoon but removed to the home Monday. Funeral services from the Evangelical church at Rochester Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Burial at I.O.O.F. cemetery.

Following is an article taken from the Arkansas Gazette, of Little Rock Ark. printed May 6, in which further details of the slaying of Robert DAVIDSON, former Fulton county resident, are set forth:

"Cotter, May 5 -- Herbert SEASE of Mountain Home and Jack BEAVERS, who lived on the Sease farm, on the White rive, near Nellie's Apron, were arrested yesterday charged with the murder of R. H. DAVIDSON, who was shot from ambush while plowing in his field Wednesday afternoon. At the time the bullet hit Davidson in the back, his wife was on the back porch calling him to supper. She said that he was leaning over covering some seed with his hand when suddenly a shot sang out and he fell forward on his face. She ran to him, but he did not regain consciousness, and died shortly after.

"Sheriff James MARTIN, with several prohibition enforcement officers who arrived Wednesday afternoon, left for the scene of the killing early yesterday morning. They gathered what evidence they could at the Davidson home, then went to the Sease farm, where they arrested Jack Beavers. At this place they also captured one of the most complete distilling outfits ever taken in north Arkansas. It was a 60-gallon copper still modernly equipped. They also got 700 gallons of mash. Herbert Seast was not present, but was captured about midnight, when he arrived home. It is said that Sease and Jack and Albert BEAVERS were at the Davidson home drinking on the afternoon of the shooting.

"The reason officers assign for the killing is that Davidson refused to participate in illicit distilling operations being carried on in that neighborhood.

"The murdered man was 49 years old. He served in the Philippines and in the World war as a master engineer. He and his wife bought the place where they lived in February, and had been improving it ever since. His old home is in Leiters Ford, Ind. The body will be returned to that place tomorrow. A group of Odd Fellows, in which order he belonged, went from this place to Nellie's Aapron this morning and took charge of funeral arrangements.

"Jack Beavers is in jail at Mountain Home. Sease was taken to Yellville today for safekeeping."

Dr. Perry HEATH, prominent dentist, died at 1:35 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his residence on south Pontiac street after a long illness. Death was caused by pernicious anemia from which he had suffered for probably more than a year, his condition having become acute 10 weeks ago when he went to the Battle Creek sanitarium for treatment. At this time two blood transfusions were made in an effort to save his life, but this treatment was subsequently given up as futile, and six weeks ago he was returned to his home in Rochester, where he sank gradually until he came to a peaceful end. He was 50 years of age.

Perry Heath was born in Wolcott, Indiana, January 24, 1872, a son of James and Elton J. HEATH. The father preceded him. He was the second of a family of 10 children, all of whom with the one exception, are living.

He was united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Kentland at the age of 16 years and came to Rochester in 1898. Here he was a student at the Rochester Normal university where he met Miss Glendolyn MYERS, to whom he was married.

There were two children born to this union, both sons, the eldest of whom died in infancy. The other son, Curtner [HEATH], 11, survives.

In 1900 he attended the Indiana Dental College at Indianapolis, graduating in 1903. He was the president of his class and graduated with the highest credits of any of his classmates.

On September 3, 1903 he opened up dental offices in Rochester where he continued in a growing practice until illness recently forced him to retire.

Dr. Heath was active in all civic and social affairs of the community, was an active republican and was elected a member of the city council on the republican ticket, serving during the administration of Former Mayor Hiram G. MILLER. He was also a member of the board of directors of the Rochester Country Club, a charter member of the original golf club and active at all times in the welfare of the organization.

Warren HEETER about 65 years old, well known resident of Athens, committed suicide early Monday morning at his garage there by blowing his brains out with a shot gun. Mr. Heeter was dead when found by his son, Darwin [HEETER]. No reason is known why Mr. Heeter committed the act, but it is thought that several pressing debts and an impending sheriff's sale of some of his property caused him to worry to such an extent that he decided to end it all.

Shortly before seven o'clock Monday morning Mr. Heeter appeared at the home of his son, Darwin, and borrowed his shotgun. Lucy CLEVINGER, who gave him the gun, stated that she thought he acted peculiarly at the time and sat down on the porch to watch him. From the house Heeter went to his garage just across the Erie tracks and left the shotgun there. Then he went to the Fred ROWE store where he purchased three shotgun shells.

He was seen to return to the garage and close the door. A short time later Lucy CLEVINGER and Howard ROUCH, a neighbor, both heard a loud report coming from the garage. Darwin Heeter was informed that it was feared his father had killed himself and the son ran to the garage and on opening the doors found his father lying dead with the top part of his head blown away.

As far as could be learned it was evident that Mr. Heeter had placed the muzzle of the gun just in front of and above the left ear, leaned over and pulled the trigger. Part of the shot took impact in the roof of the building.

Warren Heeter was well known in the Athens neighborhood and also in Rochester, he having been a life-long resident in the county. He was born near Prill's school house, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah HEETER, and lived about Athens all of his life. He affiliated himself with the socialist party and pruned to argue religion. He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Ellen HEETER, two sons, Darwin [HEETER] and Hollis [HEETER], four daughters, Mrs. Loyd RILEY, Mrs. Ellis RILEY, Mrs. James HUTCHINSON, all of near Athens, and Mrs. Edith ADAMSON, Portland, Ore., and two sisters, Mrs. William SHIVELY, Athens, and Mrs. Hiram RALSTON, of Plymouth.

Wade CALLOWAY, seventeen-year-old son of Otto CALLOWAY, of near Mud Lake, was drowned shortly after one o'clock Friday afternoon while swimming at the river, northeast of Rochester, in company with Donald PEEPLES, son of John PEEPLES.

The Calloway boy, whose father disappeared early this week, presumably as the result of financial troubles, had secured work at the new oil filling station being erected on Main and Sixth streets, but had been laid off for the afternoon.

Young Peeples, who had been in the habit of going swimming at the river in the afternoon asked the Calloway boy to accompany him, and the two went to the swimming hole east of the Michigan road bridge near the site of the old dam.

The boys had been swimming for a short time, when Calloway called to his friend. The Peeples boy swam to him immediately and had hold of the drowning boy, who at this time had gone under twice.

When he first took hold of the Calloway boy, however, Peeples said that Calloway grabbed him and fearing that they would both drown he fought himself free of the drowning youth and then before he could get him from the rear the Calloway boy sank to about nine feet of water and did not come up again.

The Peeples boy ran for help and a number of people went out to the river from Rochester, among them George ICE, who donned a bathing suit and located the drowned boy shortly after 2:30 o'clock, almost an hour after he had drowned.

Attempts were made to resuscitate the lad, but to no avail. Dr. Archie STINSON, county coroner, who arrived on the scene soon after the boy's body was taken from the river, pronounced death due to drowning, as there was water in the lungs. The body was removed to Rochester, but at the Sentinel's press hour it was not known what further disposition would be made of it.

Mrs. Boggs and a number of other women had gone to the church early in the afternoon to clean up the premises following the yearly conference, which had been held on Tuesday.

Mrs. Boggs laid kindling in the kitchen range with which to start a fire and applied what she thought was kerosene from a can in the church. But the fluid in the can proved to be gasoline instead of kerosene and when she touched a match to it, it exploded and set fire to her clothing.

She ran out of the church, her clothing a mass of flames with the other women following her. By concerted efforts, the flames were finally quenched but not before the fatal burns were inflicted. Portions of her face and the soles of her feet were all of her body that escaped the blaze.

Lukens Lake, located about 15 miles east of Rochester, was the scene of a drowning about three o'clock Thursday afternoon when Arthur R. TUTTLE, 27 years of age, fell into the lake when his rowboat capsized. He was the community service director of Peru, and was very popular in that city.

Tuttle had taken a party of boys to the lake for an outing and was directing their play in the water when the accident happened. He was rowing out into the lake and several of the boys swam to his boat and clung to the sides as they progressed.

Suddenly without warning, the increasing number of boys hanging on one side of the boat caused the craft to turn over and Tuttle was thrown into the water. He could not swim and sank immediately before any help could reach him. The boys held onto the overturned boat and all escaped. It is thought by some that he died of heart disease as the result of the shock.

Tuttle's body was recovered nearly two hours after the accident and was taken to Peru. A widow and two children survive.

Mrs. Otto CALLOWAY, coming from no one knows where, has reappeared. Unexpectedly the wife of the defaulting contractor arrived in Fulton Thursday morning on the 2:30 a.m. train and immediately went to the George ULCH home near there, where the body of her father, Frank GREGORY, lay awaiting burial. There she met her daughter, Mildred [CALLOWAY], and quietly awaited the funeral which took place at Ulch's Friday afternoon.

When a Sentinel representative called to see Mrs. Calloway it was expected to find her ill in bed as a rumor had spread around Fulton that she had broken down as the result of sad events that have shattered her family circle. Instead the lady was found to be up and feeling perfectly well. She was considerably fatigued from her hard trip, however.

She stated to the reporter that the death of her son and also that of her father had been a great shock to her but that she was bearing up under the strain as she was sure all was for the best and that it would all turn out all right in the end.

Mrs. Calloway refused to make any statement about her recent flight from Plymouth with her husband or where he was located. But from close friends and neighbors it was learned that the daughter, Mildred, had been in communication with her parents since they left and that when Mr. Gregory became seriously ill she telegraphed her mother to come at once. It is understood that the young girl did not inform her parents of the death of their son, Wade [CALLOWAY], by drowning as she did not have the heart to send such a message.

The contractor's wife was first heard of when she arrived in Peru. It was there that she learned her father had died and that she had come too late. But it was not until she had walked into the Ulch home near Fulton that she was told of the death of her son. It is evident that Otto Calloway is not yet aware that his son was drowned. Mrs. Calloway has given no indication as to what she intends to do in the future.

Owen KITCH, formerly of Bourbon and democratic candidate for sheriff of Marshall county in the campaign of 1918, committed suicide by taking poison in the Marshall county jail Thursday night. He had been arrested at Niles, Michigan, and brought to Plymouth Wednesday night to face charges of failure to obey the orders of the court in regard to the support of his wife and young son at Bourbon.

Sheriff FRANKLIN and his wife retired after nine o'clock Thursday night. The negro from Culver who is confined in the jail went to sleep about that time. About ten o'clock the negro was awakened by the groans of Mr. Kitch who was apparently in great agony. The sheriff was called and it was quickly discovered that the prisoner was in alarming condition. A physician was called immediately. Kitch was unconscious at that time, except that he was able to mumble, "water." Steps were taken to relieve him, but little could be done and he died at about 11 o'clock.

The negro says that he was fumbling with his watch nervously in the evening and repeatedly took the back off and replaced it. It is believed that he had the tablets of poison in the back of the watch. From the violence of its effects, it is believed that the poison was strychnine.

A coroner's inquest was held Friday morning at 9 o'clock and a verdict of suicide by taking poison was returned.

Daniel JOHNSON, retired farmer, despondent over his failing health committed suicide at about noon Sunday at his home on the corner of Fulton avenue and Third streets by shooting himself thru the heart with a revolver. The body was found by his wife, Mrs. Lois JOHNSON upon her return from morning church services. He was 67 years of age.

Johnson, who was born and reared in Richland township, where he lived until about 10 years ago, when he retired and moved to Rochester, had been in ill health for the past six or eight years. He suffered from an affliction of the heart that caused him severe pain.

That he had contemplated suicide some time previous to the actual taking of his life was evidenced by the fact that some time ago he purchased a revolver, which he kept about the house. The family at one time considered removing the weapon, but delayed action for fear that it would arouse his suspicion.

Sunday morning he arose as usual and when Mrs. Johnson made preparations to go to church, he suggested that she had best stay at home. Observing nothing out of the ordinary, Mrs. Johnson did not take his suggestion and went on to church, returning at near one o'clock in company with her sister, Mrs. Fred AGSTER.

Mrs. Johnson went into the house and noticing that her husband was not in his accustomed position on the front porch, proceeded thru the house until she came to the bathroom where she saw her husband lying face down in a pool of blood.

Fearing that he had suffered a hemorrhage she called to Mrs. Agster and the two returned to him, to find that he had shot himself thru the heart with a revolver, which was lying beside him. Neighbors, it was learned later, had heard the report of the gun at about noon, but attributed the explosion to a motor car.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Lois JOHNSON, and two sisters, Mrs. Fred AGSTER and Mrs. Robert WALTERS, of Richland township. A child died in infancy. Word of a terrible tragedy to a former Rochester resident came to this city over the week end in news dispatches relating the particulars of an automobile accident at Cook, Indiana, Friday evening in which Ivan L. HARTMAN, Ford agent at Monticello, was fatally injured, a companion, Mrs. Neely WILSON, of Brook, Indiana, was instantly killed and two others, Mrs. Edwin CHILDERS, of Montocello, and Claude IRELAND were seriously injured, the latter perhaps fatally.

According to word coming from Monticello Monday morning the party of four were enroute to Hammond in the Hartman sedan. They were driving at a rapid pace, it is said, when they struck a moving New York Central freight train at a grade crossing at Cook. The train was hit with such a terrific impact that one box car was knocked off the track and the large sedan was completely demolished.

The injured parties were rushed to a hospital at Hammond where Hartman died from injuries. It was stated that his body was driven full of bits of glass and he is believed to have suffered internal injuries. Mrs. Wilson was killed outright. Ireland, former prosecuting attorney, and well known in Rochester where he has visited in company with Hartman and B. W. BRESEE, of Monticello, suffered severe scalp wounds and other injuries from which he is not expected to recover. Mrs. Childers, the fourth member of his party was not so seriously hurt and is expected to recover.

Mrs. Hartman, who has been staying at their lake cottage on the east shore here, was taken to Monticello late Saturday night. Her husband's body has been removed to Monticello where funeral services will be held Tuesday. The body is to be buried at the former home in Peoria Illinois.

The body of Mrs. Wilson was removed to the home in Brook.

Hartman is survived by the widow and three children, Idolle [HARTMAN], Eldrige [HARTMAN] and Donald [HARTMAN]. He moved to Rochester from Peoria about five years ago, forming the B. and H. agency here with B. W. Bresee, his partner. They remained in Rochester where they accuulated a host of friends until just three years ago when they removed to Monticello where they took over the Ford agency, establishing garages at Monticello and Monon.

It was reported here that Hartman and Bresee either had or were about to dissolve partnership. Hartman had built a cottage at the lake here and was expected by Mrs. Hartman Saturday to spend two weeks. She had been here for the past week or ten days with the three children.

Ireland, who is a prominent attorney at Monticello, is married as were the two women. All were of about the same age, near 40 years. Mrs. Wilson had two children a son, married, and a daughter 13 years old. Mrs. Childers had no children.

Raymond BERGER, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris BERGER, of Bourbon, died here very suddenly Sunday afternoon just after he had been discharged from the Woodlawn Hospital where he had undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Berger's case had been diagnosed early and operated upon in sufficient time, altho his appendix was slightly infected, it was learned. Following the operation his convalescence had been entirely normal and Sunday afternoon his parents and sweetheart came from Bourbon to take him home. The entire party were extremely happy over his well-being and had started for the motor car for the trip to Bourbon.

Just as Berger was about to step into the car he was suddenly stricken and died almost immediately. Death was caused by an infected blood clot which had been turned loose in his circulatory system and on Sunday evicently reached a vital spot, presumably in the brain causing death similar to a "stroke." The body was taken to Bourbon.

George MOORE, 85, retired farmer, who lived practically all of his life in Fulton county, committed suicide late Wednesday afternoon by hanging himself in the barn at his home in Athens. The body was found by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank MOORE at about five o'clock, 30 minutes after he had taken his life.

Mr. Moore had been in ill health for the past 20 years, suffering with shaking palsy. For the past few years his mind had grown feeble and while suicide had never been thought of at any time, his family had kept close watch over him.

Wednesday afternoon he went out to the barn and when he had not returned to the house, Mrs. Frank Moore started out to find him, fearing that something had happened to him causing him to remain away from the house longer than was his custom.

She found the body hanging from a beam in the barn. Life was already extinct. She called Dr. Archie STINSON, county coroner, who made a formal finding of suicide.

The old man had made a noose in a half inch rope, which he tied to a rafter, placing the noose about his neck. He then stepped off of a height of about three feet. He left no message.

George Moore was born in Ohio, moving to Fulton county with his parents in early life.

He was very well known thruout the community and had farmed all of his life until failing health compelled him to retire. His son and Mrs. Frank Moore had made their home with him since the death of his wife about three years ago. He served in an Indiana regiment during the civil war.

In the passing of Mrs. Sarah KLINE on Monday evening another old settler and esteemed citizen is lost to the community. She possessed a wide circle of relatives and friends in and near Delong.

Sarah Ann MAHLER was born May 21st, 1854, and died December 4th, 1922, at the age of 68 years, 6 months and 13 days.

On December 30th, 1875, she was united in marriage to Frank M. KLINE, who survives her. Four children were the issue of this marriage, Bertha C. [KLINE], who is now Mrs. C. J. CORNELL. and lives in Bronxville, New York, Marie E. [KLINE], or Mrs. G. S. INGRAHAM, whose home is in Evanston, Ill.; Grover C. [KLINE], who is on the home farm, and Caroline V. [KLINE], now Mrs. L. E. JOHNSON, of Brewster, Minn. But one sister, Mrs. Martha SLONAKER, of Monterey, survives from her immediate family.

At an early age she united with the Methodist church at Leiters Ford and later was one of the charter members of the Reformed church; always an earnest and willing worker for her church, family and friends.

Since August she has failed rapidly in health. All that loving hands could do to relieve and restore her proved unavailing, pneumonia being the immediate cause of her death.

In her passing the husband has lost a faithful and cherished companion and the children a devoted and loving mother.

Funeral services were held at the Reformed church, DeLong, on Thursday at 2:00 p.m., conducted by Rev. Charles E. TAPY, pastor of the Reformed church at Culver. Interment at the Odd Fellows cemetery at Leiters.

Melvin McINTYRE, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McINTYRE, one and one-half miles northeast of Burket, was instantly killed late Saturday afternoon while out hunting with two companions.

McIntyre was standing on a rock, about to make a shot, when his foot slipped and he fell to the ground. As he fell his gun was accidentally discharged and the shot penetrated his side causing almost instant death.

The three boys, one of whom was Walter HARD, had been hunting on a farm in Kosciusko county near where they reside when the fatal accident occurred.

Melvin McIntyre is survived by his parents, two sisters and three brothers.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the farm house.

A. E. MOGLE, of Terre Haute, spent the week end in Rochester with his sister, Mrs. Ernest RIEMENSCHNEIDER and other relatives. Mrs. Mogle, well known in Rochester, died suddenly August 10th while making a political address in Memorial hall. Their only child, Mrs. Leila McNABB, had just completed her third trip around the world and had arrived at the European hotel in Singapore, where she learned of her mother's death.

The body of Mrs. Lydia COLWELL, who died at her home in Warsaw, will be brought to Rochester Friday where funeral services will be held at the United Brethren church at two o'clock in the afternoon with burial at the I.O.O.F. cemetery. Mrs. Colwell was a former resident of this city.

The death of George DOLLAR, [Jr.], age sixteen, at the home of his grandfather on a farm near Anderson recalls a tragedy at Macy, seven years ago, when George DOLLAR, crazed by the death of his wife, killed three members of his family, wounded his seven-year-old son, George [DOLLAR], Jr., and then went to the grave of his wife and killed himself. The youth, George, [Jr.], had carried two bullets imbedded in his skull since that time and then died from an injury to his brain caused by one of the bullets which had been touching the brain.

Mrs. Emma WILTROUT, aged 90 years, of Silver Lake, burned to death about eight o'clock Tuesday morning when the bathrobe she was wearing caught fire as she was attempting to renew the wood fire in her room. The flames enveloped her and she ran through a hallway to the kitchen, followed by her daughter, Mrs. Harriett WILTROUT, and Harry HERENDEEN, their chore boy, both of whom made frantic efforts to tear the burning robe from the terrified woman.

The boy, realizing that their efforts were in vain, ran to the school building nearby and summoned help. S. F. MCKRILL, janitor of the building, and Merzel SMITH, instructor in the school, quickly ran to the Wilttrout home, a short distance away, but when they arrived found Mrs. Wilttrout near death with all the clothing except her shoes, burned from her body. She was leaning over a table, having fallen against the kitchen stove, and a deep gash was cut in her forehead. Her entire body was horribly burned and she died within ten minutes after the arrival of Mr. McKrill and Mr. Smith.
