Frederick D. RUH, aged 46, committed suicide this afternoon at 3 o’clock by shooting himself through the heart with a shot gun. The act was committed on the grave of his father the late Alex RUH who died several weeks ago. Mr. Ruh had driven to the cemetery in his Buick car. From appearances he had planned the act before hand. He had been brooding over his father’s death and it is believed that during his melancholia he lost his reason temporarily and ended his life. He had used a string and a nail to discharge the shot gun. Mr. Ruh was standing beside his machine when he fired the gun as the steps and the interior of the car were covered with blood. Mr. Ruh then had reeled and fell on his father’s grave. Mr. Ruh was associated with his father for many years in the operation of the BLUE DRUG STORE here. In the year of 1929, Mr. Ruh was stricken with fatigue neurosis and he spent several months in California in an effort to regain his health. Later he received treatment at both the Mayo and Cleveland hospitals and it was believed upon his return here that he had completely recovered from the disease. However, in 1932 he suffered a reoccurrence of the nervous disorder, and his condition gradually became worse.

Frederick Dunham [RUH], son of Alexander and Ida (SPERLING) RUH was born in Peru, Ind., on October 13, 1887, and when but six months old he removed with his parents to Rochester, where he has since resided. On October 20th, 1909 he was united in marriage to Edith Brackett WILLIAMS, the ceremony being pronounced in this city. After a prolonged and valiant fight Henry A. BARNHART, 75, prominent citizen, neighbor and statesman, passed away at 5:20 o’clock, Monday evening at his home on South Main Street, this city.

Although the death of Mr. Barnhart had not been entirely unexpected, inasmuch as his condition had been regarded as extremely grave since early last fall, his legion of friends, locally and throughout the country, were fervently hoping that he would be able to regain his health and again assume, possibly in a lesser degree, his diversified duties in the civic, social and religious affairs of this community.

Medical diagnosis revealed heart trouble and diseases inherent with advanced hears as the contributing factors in Mr. Barnhart’s demise. Since returning from an Indianapolis hospital a week ago last Friday, attending physicians held little or no hope for his ultimate recovery and his condition gradually grew worse. Sunday afternoon he lapsed into a coma, from which he never rallied.

All members of Mr. Barnhart’s immediate family were at his bedside when the end came.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church on Wednesday afternoon, at two o’clock. The Rev. Benjamin G. FIELD will officiate.

The body will lie in state in the church from noon until two o’clock Wednesday, and may be viewed by friends and public during these hours. Burial will be made in the mausoleum.
The pall bearers will be Lyman BRACKETT, Robert SHAFER, Pete VanTRUMP, Percy SMITH, George RIDDLE and Roscoe PONTIUS.

Mr. Barnhart, who enjoyed good health most of his life, suffered his first serious illness six years ago, while at El Paso, Texas, on his way with Mrs. Barnhart to California. He was confined in a hospital there for several weeks. Following that he suffered from severe attacks of bronchitis nearly every winter, which in turn weakened his heart and he recovered more slowly from each illness. In December 1932 he had a severe attack of nosebleed which was stopped after drastic treatment and he never recovered his full strength after that.

He was taken ill with a cold in November 1933 and after Thanksgiving was ordered to bed by his physicians to take a long rest. Due to the fact that he had been so active all his life he found it almost impossible to remain quietly in bed and was up whenever he could persuade his doctors to let him move about. His condition became gradually worse and on January 18th he was taken to the Methodist Hospital at Indianapolis and placed under the care of heart specialists. He improved there considerably but was unable to get up.

Recently his physicians advised that he be returned to his home where he desired to be and he was brought back on March 16th. He suffered some from the trip and then seemingly recovered. Wednesday he was seriously affected again with bronchial trouble which greatly weakened him but his condition was not believed critical until Sunday.

Born at Twelve Mile, Indiana, September 11, 1858, son of Rev. Jacob and Mary FISHER BARNHART, he was educated in the country schools and at Amboy Academy and taught several terms after which he married Loretta Ann LEFFEL (deceased in 1916). They located in Fulton County on a farm in Liberty Township where they resided four years and then moved to Rochester when Mr. Barnhart took up the duties of County Surveyor in which position he was elected in 1884. After one year in the Surveyor’s office he purchased the Rochester Sentinel and was its owner and editor for nearly forty years. In 1892 he was made a member of the Democratic State Committee which was the beginning of a political career of many responsibilities. In 1893 he was appointed by Governor Matthews, a member of the Board of Directors of the Indiana State Prison and in 1906 he was appointed by Governor Hanley, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Northern Hospital for the Insane and re-appointed four years later, by Governor Marshall. In 1908 he was elected to succeed the late Hon. A. L. Brick to be a Representative in the U. S. Congress for the 13th Indiana District, in which capacity he served for six terms, half of that time as chairman of the Committee on Printing. He also served on the important Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Banking and Currency, and Public Buildings and Grounds. In this experience he became a speaker of considerable popularity and delivered patriotic, business and public welfare addresses all over his home state and in many others. One year he was a lecturer on the Redpath Chautauqua platform and after that gave liberally of his time as an after dinner speaker and as speaker for many business and religious organizations.

In business, also, his was a busy life. At an early day he was made secretary and manager for the board of directors in the construction of the ROCHESTER WATER WORKS system. With Rome C. STEPENSON, Lyman M. BRACKETT, George W. HOLMAN and Joseph A. MYERS he organized the ROCHESTER TELEPHONE SYSTEM and as president and general manager was the directing head of that business from 1895 until his death. Subsequently he, with Messrs. Rome Stephenson, George W. Holman and others organized the ROCHESTER TRUST and SAVINGS BANK which was afterward merged with what is now the U. S. BANK & TRUST COMPANY, and was for many years a member of its board of directors. At another time when the rebuilding of COLUMBIA SCHOOL was urgently necessary and the city of Rochester had reached its bonded limit, a company of local business men organized to underwrite the building to completion and Mr. Barnhart was a member of the board of directors and of its executive committee.

In both the newspaper and telephone fields of endeavor, Mr. Barnhart was always in the foremost ranks of activities. He was president of the National Independent Telephone Association, president of the Indiana State Telephone Association and for many years a member of the board of directors of both these organizations as well as editorial writer for two telephone magazines. Also, he was president of the Democratic State Editorial Association and of the Northern Indiana Non-Partisan Editorial Association. He was for many years president of the local organization of the American Red Cross and was appointed a member of many state and national organizations in behalf of various charitable, health and public welfare movements.

He was long a member of Rochester First Baptist Church and of its board of trustees, president of the Men’s Bible Class of that Church, a member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge, of the Rochester Country Club and of the Rochester Kiwanis Club.

As the result of his first marriage three sons were born, Dean L. [BARNHART], co-editor of the Goshen News-Timed and Democrat, Hugh A. [BARNHART], editor of the Rochester News-Sentinel and another, who died in infancy. Also a niece, now Mrs. Henry Stewart BAILEY, of Peru, became a member of the Barnhart family by adoption and was always a loyal, helpful and much beloved foster daughter. Other survivors are: two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth HOFFMAN, of Macy, and Mrs. Marie LEFFEL of Pontiac, Mich., and three grandchildren, Jane BAILEY of Peru, Mary Louise BARNHART, student at Indiana University and Isabelle Anne BARNHART of Goshen.

In 1923 Mr. Barnhart contracted a second marriage with Mrs. Alwilda E. DILLON, a lifelong family neighbor, and the union was a happy and congenial one as both were much interested in all helpful public and club activities and in the religious and social life of the city. They resided in the Dillon home at 1104 South Main Street.

In recent years, Mr. Barnhart devoted all of his time to his home, his church, his telephone interests, his 200 acre farm “Springbrook” northwest of Rochester and to civic affairs. At his farm he was a breeder of Guernsey cattle and owned a thoroughbred herd. He was an enthusiastic worker in the affairs of the Kiwanis Club and the Izzak Walton League and was one of the group responsible for the location of the federal fish hatchery at Lake Manitou. His wide acquaintance among the members of the house and senate, as well as in the department at Washington, played a large part in focusing favorable attention of government officials on this community. He was active in business, religious, and civic affairs until he was confined to his home by his illness and kept his daily interest in such until the last.

HENRY A. BARNHART
[Editorial]

Through the writing of the closing chapter in the life of Henry A. BARNHART, death has dealt a heavy blow to the family, friends and community. Yet, while the gamut of human emotions may register deepest in sorrow, there is solace in the knowledge that Mr. Barnhart’s career was replete with deeds, commendable deeds, of which those who mourn, may ever be proud.

Reared by the humblest of rural surroundings, under the tutelage of what would now be termed homespun Christian parentage, Mr. Barnhart, early in life established a well defined demarcation between right and wrong, and from these simple but powerful classifications of all human deeds he stood and fought indomitably for what he deemed were just.

Mr. Barnhart, while still a young man, assumed an important role in the civic, political and general activities of Rochester and Fulton county. During his two score of years as editor and publisher of the Rochester Sentinel, he was a fearless exponent for every worthwhile movement for the betterment of the community. It was during his regime in the newspaper field that his outstanding personality, together with his desire to be a sincere friend of those in all walks of life, finally emboldened him on a political career, under the Democratic banner, which gained the plaudits of even many of adverse political faith. During his six terms in the United States legislative chambers, he served his constituents, district, state and nation, in such an unbiased, business-like manner that the word “politician” in a professional sense was never connected with the name of Congressman Barnhart.

Following his retirement from national legislative activity, Mr. Barnhart devoted his untiring energies to the welfare of Rochester, his neighbors, friends, the unfortunates, his family and his church. During the latter months of his life, he derived much pleasure through an active interest in the progress being made on the Federal Fish Hatchery at Lake Manitou, and it may be said it was largely through his friendship with former colleagues at Washington, D.C., that the project was secured for Rochester.

Perhaps, in this brief comment on the passing of a citizen and friend, who has left an indelible mark of honesty, efficiency and helpfulness, which will ever be remembered in this community, one of the finest tributes to Henry A. Barnhart may be said in these few words: He was a lover of his fellowman, of nature, of wholesome humor, of his home, his family and his church.

Funeral services were held this morning from the home of the parents of John Franklin [MOORE], eight day old son of Mr. and Mrs. William MOORE, who died Wednesday evening. The parents reside on a farm three miles southeast of Athens. The services were in charge of Rev. C. J. MINER followed by burial in the Mt. Hope cemetery at Athens. The parents, six half-brothers and sisters and grandfather, Frank HATTERY, of Peru, survive.

A eulogy was delivered in Congress by Representative Louis LUDLOW, in tribute to his former colleague and friend the late Henry A. BARNHART. Mr. Ludlow and Mr. Barnhart had been friends for over a period of two score years, their friendship forming when both were engaged in the newspaper fields and later while members of the United States Congress. Congressman Ludlow during his social and business visits to Rochester, always spent considerable time with Mr. Barnhart. The tribute follows:

Washington, Mar. 30. -- A eulogy of Henry A. Barnhart of Rochester, Ind., former representative in Congress, was delivered in the House (yesterday) by Representative Louis LUDLOW of Indianapolis. Mr. Ludlow chose as his subject, “Henry A. Barnhart, Gentleman and Friend.”

“Mr. Speaker, a congenial, generous soul that once adorned these legislative halls and made everybody here happy by his presence passed through the portals of the unknown land on last Monday.

“The old-timers in this great legislative body well remember Henry A. Barnhart of Indiana, and news of his death has brought deep and sincere sorrow to the older members of this House, who knew and loved him.

“The sad tidings of his departure has been perceived with silent and reverential respect in the cloakrooms that used to reverberate with laughter when he assumed the role of entertainer, for in his heyday there was none among all the members of this great body and none among all the public officials at Washington his equal as a story-teller.

“For eleven years, as a member of Congress for the old Thirteenth Indiana district, he spread joy and sunshine around these legislative halls. His wholesome and infectious humor was a soothing balm to troubled spirits and contributed mightily to make congressional life worth living.
“As an impersonator he was without a peer, and his mimicry was double enjoyable because it never left a sting. When he imitated Champ Clark’s booming voice in Missouri dialect he seemed more like Clark than Clark himself. Gen. Isaac R. Sherwood, with his high falsetto voice, was no more real in the flesh than when he spoke through his Hoosier interpreter. One of the perennial delights of the Democratic cloak room was Mr. Barnhart’s florid rendition of Percy Quinn’s famous speech:

‘Gentlemen of the House, there comes a time in the lives of all of us when we must rise above principle!’

“The plantation humor of good old Ben Humphreys of Mississippi, lived over and over in Mr. Barnhart’s impersonations of that quaint character and he could portray Joe Byrne, Jack Garner or Henry Rainey with uncanny realism. For a long time after he quit Congress he made what he called a ‘hegira’ once a year back to Washington and his coming was always hailed with delight by his old cronies because it always marked the beginning of the open season for a fresh rendition of the old stories that never lost their charm or any of their delectable qualities in the retelling.

“Mr. Barnhart was made of the best quality of Hoosier homespun. He possessed a ruggedness of character that reminded me of something majestic, like the beauties of Lake Manitou or the gorgeous loveliness of the hills of Brown county clothed in the marvelous tints of autumn. His greatness was elemental and was composed of many virtues, outstanding among which were honesty, sincerity and friendship of such quality that the older it grows the tighter it binds. It seemed so fitting that he should be always happy, because he made everybody around him happy.

“All of his life he was a newspaper man and as one who also belongs to the Fourth Estate, I believe his newspaper experience gave him the human touch. His sympathy was abounding and his interest in people was intense.

“He also loved his dog, and to my way of thinking that is an omen of character. I have never known a man who loved dogs as Mr. Barnhart loved them who was not a good man. His eulogy on dogs is a cameo of literature, as perfect as Senator Vest’s tribute to that faithful animal. [see Farewell to “Bob” following this eulogy. -WCT]

“Mr. Barnhart died in the fullness of years, honored and revered by everybody in his home community, where he had long been hailed as the first citizen. He was not called suddenly, but it seemed as if providence, realizing the love that bound him to mortals gave him, even after the soul of death was on him, opportunities to tarry yet awhile. He had ample time to fold the draperies of his spirit about him before he entered the presence of the Great King and he finally went so quietly and peacefully it seemed he was not dead at all, but that in the language of the immortal Hoosier poet:

“‘With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand

‘He vanished into an unknown land.’

“It is sad to part with one who was so sterling and so true, but we may find comfort in our simple Christian faith that when we, too, cross the borders of the unknown land we will find this true and loyal friend awaiting us.”

FAREWELL TO “BOB”
by Congressman Henry A. Barnhart
[courtesy of Jack K. Overmyer, The News-Sentinel]

A message from home today stating that old “Bob”, deaf and decrepit, but the family pet and pride and protector for 15 years, had died, halted interest in all else with me save the memory of the past; and while he was only a fox terrier dog, no affair of state, nor burst of congressional eloquence, nor dream of future glory attracts my attention, and I think and think and think.

You were just a dog, “Bob”, but you were a “thoroughbred” in your class; and if there ever was a faithful, alert, trustworthy, loyal, mind-your-own-business, self-respecting, gentleman dog, you were this illustrious “dogality”. From the evening you came from Chicago a plump, little puppy to the hour of your death, the result of paralysis, superinduced by fighting two intruding Peruvian mongrels, at the same time, you were the trusted watchman of our home, the devoted “pal” of the children, and my rollicking “chum”. You could do stunts like the boys on land, in air, or in water; you showed many a pesky rat and prowling cat that life was not worth living; and the body scars you carried to your grave were so many badges of honor, for you never showed fear and never fought a dog smaller than yourself. No boy ever “soaked” you or one of your young masters and “got away with it” without being dog bitten; no man ever violently attacked you who didn’t cry, “Call of your dog”; and no one ever approached your home at an unseemly hour or in uncommon manner except to hear warning of your strenuous vigil or meet you face to face on the danger line of intrusion. Of course you occasionally erred in judgment. As I remember, you frightened Joe King into short growth, and you bit Uncle Adam Mow and Mike Henry and Huston Black and numerous other good men who called on friendly mission and found only you at home, and you were not sociable with other people. But your mistakes were due to your loyalty to me and mine, and I’m homesick and heartsick in sorrow because I must bid you, game and companionable old fellow, this everlasting farewell. No friend ever stood with us so firmly and so unselfishly as you, and all you asked in return was to have the door opened 40 or 50 times a day that you might rush out and chase roving cars away and an occasional bone or some crumbs from the table.

And so your memory shall be cherished with us as long as time lasts. Your constancy, your self-denial, and your admirable activity in the everyday affairs of the youths about you as they grew from childhood to man’s estate, have been a help to me beyond expression, and if any fellow citizen ever mistakenly or maliciously classes me with your kind, I hope he may compare me with you, “Bob.”

Mrs. Elizabeth BARNHISEL, 103 years, 7 months of age, perhaps the oldest lady in this section of the state, passed away Sunday morning at 7:50 o’clock at the home of her son, Noah [BARNHISEL], six miles southeast of Akron, in Miami county. She had resided in the house in which she succumbed for a period of over 81 years. Although Mrs. Barnhisel had been an invalid for a period of three years, she having suffered from a fracture of her hip, her general condition had been fairly good up until a week ago when her sturdy constitution began to yield to gradual break down from diseases inherent with advanced years. Her passing was peaceful and the members of her immediate family were at her bedside when the end came.

For the past several years large pilgrimages of northern Indiana relatives and friends of Mrs. Barnhisel assembled at the Emanuel Evangelical church south of Akron to pay respects and honor the birthday of the community’s oldest resident. These occasions were thoroughly enjoyed by Grandmother Barnhisel and she always found time to discuss most any topic regarding the history and affairs of the community that her friends and administers might ask. Her brilliant mind attracted not only friends in this immediate vicinity but representatives of the press from neighboring states often interviewed Grandmother Barnhisel relative to her earlier life in this country.

The aged lady received nation-wide publicity a few years ago when she received from the U. S. War Department a copy of a letter which had been lost in the archives of the department. The missive which had been lost since the year 1865 was a report concerning the illness and death of her husband, a soldier of the Union army who died in a hospital at Vicksburg. Although Mrs. Barnhisel knew her husband had been a victim of the conflict, the details of his last days were never known to her until five years ago. A postscript written by her husband a few days prior to his death was also enclosed with the letter received from the war department.

Elizabeth [HOFFMAN], daughter of Frederick and Elizabeth HOFFMAN was born in Germany, September 21, 1830 and passed away Sunday at 7:50 a.m., May 13th, 1934 at the age of 103 years, 7 months and 22 days. When a child of six years of age she removed to the United States with her parents and a short time later settled in the northeast section of Miami county. She resided in the home in which she passed away for 81 years.

On January 2nd, 1863, she was united in marriage to Cornelius BARNHISEL. Her husband enlisted in the Civil war under the Union colors and passed away in a hospital at Vicksburg on July 12, 1865. To this union three children were born, two of whom survive.

Grandmother Barnhisel was a member of the Evangelical church, at Emanuel, southeast of Akron, and was an active worker in this religious organization until she became an invalid through suffering a fracture of her hip. The survivors are two sons, John BARNHISEL, of Akron, Noah BARNHISEL, also of Akron; five grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren and 17 great-great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mary [BARNHISEL], preceded in death. Her husband who died in service of the Union army, was buried in the Arlington cemetery at Washington, D.C.

Horatio HUDTALKER, aged 52, was found dead in a pasture field at his farm seven and half miles northwest of Rochester yesterday afternoon by Harry SMITH, a man who was employed by Roy ANDERSON, a neighbor. Death was due to a shot gun wound in the right side.

Coroner Herbert ZIMMERMAN was called and he held that Hudtwalker had committed suicide. The coroner stated that he had learned that Hudtwalker had been worried and grieved since the death of a horse about one week ago.

The members of the dead man’s family dispute the suicide theory and say that they believed that Mr. Hudtwalker was killed accidentally. He had been hunting groundhogs on his farm several times recently.

The body was discovered by Smith while driving along the road with a team and wagon. The body was lying behind a bale of wire. It could not be seen from the Hudtwalker home.

Mr. Smith notified Rudolph HUDTALKER, a brother of the dead man who lived with his brother. Coroner Zimmerman was then called. He held that death must have occurred about 1:15 o’clock Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hudtwalker was born on a farm a mile south of Rochester on Road 25 on April 22, 1881. His parents were Emil and Elsie HUDTALKER who came to this country from Germany.

The deceased had lived in or near this city all of his life. He was a farmer and also followed the occupation of ditching. He was a member of the Eagles Lodge of this city.

Survivors other than the brother Rudolph Hudtwalker are a sister, Mrs. Elly JOYCE of this city and several cousins and a nephew.

The funeral services will be held from the home northwest of the city at 2:30 o’clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be made in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

The funeral services this afternoon at the Emanuel Evangelical Church southeast of Akron for Mrs. Elizabeth BARNHISEL, aged 103, who died Sunday were very largely attended. The deceased was a member of the church.

The services were in charge of Rev. W. H. FRESHLEY of South Bend. The pallbearers were six of her great-grandsons. Burial was made in the Gaerte Cemetery near Akron.

Mrs. Barnhisel was one of the oldest persons in the state of Indiana. She was one of three centennarians who resided near Akron. Dr. E. A. CASE, one of them, died a year ago. The remaining centenarian is Mrs. Salome MEYERS, who is near her 105th birthday.

Mrs. Barnhisel was born in Germany in 1830 and came to this country with her parents when she was six years of age. The voyage on a sailing vessel required 40 days. The Barnhisel family first settled in Holmes county, Ohio, the trip from the coast being made in a canal boat. Later the family came to Indiana to reside.

For eighty years Mrs. Barnhisel lived on the farm where she died. She helped her husband, Cornelius BARNHISEL who she married in 1853 to clear their farm. They built their own log house and the first church in that community, an Evangelical, was constructed on their farm. The building is now used as a barn.

Although she could read both English and German, Mrs Barnhidsel never learned to write.

On the occasion of her 103rd anniversary, Mrs. Barnhisel attributed her health to regular habits, which included breakfast in bed at 5:30 o’clock consisting of two cups of coffee and whatever food was prepared by other members of the family, water for dinner which she drank seated in a wheel chair at the dinner table, bread and milk for supper. Mrs. Barnhisel retired.
promptly at 7 p.m.

Death called the second time in six weeks today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell BUTTON, who reside four and a half miles southeast of Rochester and claimed their son Delmar Lewis [BUTTON], aged 1 year and 7 months. Death was due to pneumonia and followed an illness of several weeks. The lad’s sister Ruth [BUTTON], aged 3, died six weeks ago from pneumonia. There are no other children in the Button family. The deceased was born in Fulton county on September 23, 1932. The funeral services will be held at 2 p.m., Saturday from the Pleasant Hill church at Lake Bruce with the Rev. E. L. SMITH in charge. Burial will be made in the Lake Bruce cemetery.

Following a cerebral hemorrhage which he suffered during the noon hour Wednesday, on the Marshall-Fulton county line road while enroute to his home here in Rochester, Ralph J. RAVENCROFT, passed away at 2:30 o’clock Thursday morning at his home 1214 Jefferson street. The news of his death which was current on the streets early today came as a most severe shock to his legion of friends throughout this locality.

Prior to Mr. Ravencroft’s fatal illness his health had been regarded as exceptionally good and he was engaged in his usual business, as that of a salesman for the Fitz Cleaner Co., at the time he was stricken. Physicians who were called in attendance of Mrs. Ravencroft despaired of hope or his recovery from the start and all members of his immediate family were at his bedside when the end came.

The deceased, who had been a resident of this community for a period of over two scores years possessed an exceptionally attractive personality and through his wide scope of travel as a salesman and in the theatrical field, his range of acquaintances extended throughout practically all sections of the United States. In his early life Mr. Ravencroft embarked upon a theatrical career playing comedian parts in a stock, which was owned by the HOLDEN BROTHERS.
The company made annual tours for over a score of years in the West, South and East, always closing its season at the Park Theatre in Indianapolis.

The older residents of the city will well remember Mr. Ravencroft in the play entitled “The Denver Express,” he playing the role of “Tommy Tucker” a part which he himself composed for the comedy hi–lights of this play. Later, when the Holden Brothers stock company discontinued their tours, Mr. Ravencroft organized a stock company of his own and followed over the old circuit with the show “Ten Nights in a Bar–room.” At the close of his historic career he became a salesman for several of the leading cleaning compound manufacturers. In this occupation he traveled in almost every locality throughout the country. During his brief relaxations from traveling Mr. Ravencroft used his spare time in an inventive tend of mind and secured several patents–rights on various articles which were clever and practical. Perhaps the most outstanding achievement of his inventions was an automobile headlight which was designed so as to turn with the front wheels of the auto, thus throwing an advanced light around any sharp turn the driver desired to make. Among his more recent inventions was that of compounding the Fitz Cleaner, which product was meeting with popular approval at the time of his demise.

William H. DENISTON, aged 87, one of Rochester’s pioneers and a highly esteemed citizen succumbed at his home, 1318 South Main Street, at 5:30 o’clock Wednesday evening. Death resulted from a complication of diseases inherent with advanced years, which he had suffered for the past year. The aged gentleman had been bedfast for the last five weeks and attending physicians held no hope for his recovery, following the death of Mrs. Deniston which occurred on April 30th. Members of the immediate family were at the bedside when Mr. Deniston passed away.

Following the death of his wife, Mr. Deniston apparently lost all interest in life and was eager for the close of his interesting civic and business career. In the lives of these aged residents, whose passing occurred within a month apart, two records which may stand for years and perhaps forever in this county, are registered in the annals of this community. Mr. and Mrs.
Deniston who were married on November 15, 1866 in Logansport, enjoyed a most complacent and companionable wedded life for a period of 66 years, 5 months and 15 days, they having been residents of Rochester since the year of 1869. The other exceptional achievement was the long term of business activities of Mrs. Deniston, he being engaged in active business in this city for a period of 64 years, or from the year 1869 to April of 1933, when failing eyesight forced his retirement from the elevator business.

In all of his civic, political and business transactions in this long span of years, Mr. Deniston, in his quiet and efficient manner built up a friendship which had no boundaries in this section of the state and up until the past few months he kept in constant touch with the affairs of the nation, state and community. During the prime of his interesting life, he played an important part in the progress of the civic and industrial welfare of Rochester and Fulton county and it may be said so keen and just was his judgment in his business activities that no blemishes of criticism marred his long and eventful career.

Excerpts from the History of Indiana under the division of Fulton county’s pioneer and leading citizens, which was compiled and published by the late Hon. Henry A. BARNHART, present the following data concerning the life of the deceased:

“William H. Deniston, one of the greatly esteemed citizens of Rochester came to the city in the year 1869, and during the greater part of this time he has been identified with the elevator business. Mr. Deniston was born in Preble county, Ohio, July 28th, 1846, the son of Ethan Allen and Mary Ann (JORDAN) DENISTON.

“The early years of the life of Ethan Allen Deniston were passed in Ohio, but in 1850 he brought his family to Indiana and settled on the Eel river, near the town of Mexico. There he passed the remainder of his life, following the vocation of miller and operating a flour mill and saw mill. He and his worthy wife were the parents of six children, William H. being the last survivor of this family.

“William Henry DENISTON, attended the grade and high schools at Mexico and supplemented this training by a commercial course at Purdue University. After graduating from this institution he entered his father’s flour mill to learn the business. In 1869 he located in Rochester where he embarked in the grocery business. The community at that time was still practically in the infancy of its commercial being; there was but one brick business building in the city which was known as the Jesse SHIELDS building, located at the [NE] corner of Eighth and Main streets.

“Mr. Deniston’s next venture was in the hardware business and subsequently he formed a partnership with Calvin Van TRUMP, Orlando SMITH and Andrew C. SHEPPARD. It was about this time that he became interested first in the elevator business and in 1891 he was elected auditor of Fulton county. He was auditor at the time the contract was let for the building of the present courthouse. Later he sold his interest in the hardware business and continued in the elevator line.

“Mr. Deniston also had several other connections in the industrial and civic progress of the community, he serving for a number of years as chairman of the board of directors of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK. During the World War he served as chairman of the Fulton County Council of Defense which made a splendid showing. He was founder and president of the ROCHESTER BRIDGE COMPANY for several years.

“Politically, Mr. Deniston was a democrat and his fraternal connections were with the Knights of Pythias lodge and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of the former he had been a member since the organization of the Rochester chapter.”

On November 15th, 1866, Mr. Deniston was united in wedlock to Hannah Maria [HOOVER], daughter of John and Rachel HOOVER of Cass county, the ceremony being pronounced at Logansport, Ind. In this union, five children were born, of whom two daughters and one son, died in infancy; Cora [DENISTON], died January 12, 1878, and Arthur Leroy DENISTON, of this city, being the lone survivor of the immediate family. Three grandchildren, William [DENISTON] and Barbara DENISTON, and Mrs. Richard WALL, all of this city also survive. Mr. Deniston was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city and was a Trustee Emeritus of this religious organization at the time of his demise.

Funeral services will be held at the Deniston home, 1318 South Main street, Friday afternoon two o’clock. Rev. T. L. STOVALL will be in charge of the rites. Interment will be made in the IOOF cemetery. His body will lie in state at the residence from noon Friday until the hour of the funeral.

Harry STRODE, 33-year-old former resident of Rochester, is dead at Peru from a gun shot wound allegedly suffered during an argument in a tourist camp at Cleveland, Tenn., about two weeks ago.

The man who shot Strode is being held in jail at Cleveland and Peru police have informed authorities of the southern town of the death of the shooting victim.

Strode died early Friday in Dukes Memorial hospital in Peru where he was taken late Wednesday night in a dying condition after police had been called to his home in 361 Madison avenue, Peru and found him in a semi-delirious condition lying on [a] davenport. He was alone. The wound was unbandaged and he had apparently suffered one or more hemorrhages during the last day.

Strode is said to have been shot during a heated argument which ensued when the Tennessee man mistook the former local citizen for a federal agent and believed he was going to confiscate some whiskey which he had in his possession.

Strode was taken to a Cleveland hospital and remained there for a week under the care of a physician before he prevailed upon the hospital to release him, whereupon he got into his car and drove to Peru.

Infection developed in the wound which was in the left shoulder and lung but Strode neglected to call a doctor, with the fatal result.

Storde was a federal prohibition agent for several years. He worked in Fulton and surrounding counties for the government. He worked in a garage here and also operated a farm near the city.

Mrs. George BLACK today received a letter from her brother, Minor BUTLER of Toledo, Ohio, in which it was stated that her grand-nephew, Minor BUTLER, Jr., had been killed in a train accident at Fostoria, Ohio several days ago. No details as to the accident were contained in the letter. The lad had visited in this city on several occasions.

Death, Friday evening, continued its appalling inroads which it has been making on the citizens of this community for the past several weeks when it claimed the life of Dr. Edward H. SUTHERLAND at his home, 930 South Pontiac street. Dr. Sutherland had been ill for the past ten weeks from a complication of diseases, however, the attending physicians did not despair for this recovery until the past few days.

Dr. Sutherland, who came to this city from Mishawaka almost a score of years ago, had made a host of friends throughout both city and county. He possessed a most pleasing and retiring personality, which won for him the admiration of all with whom he was associated. Through his long years of service in this community where he administered to the ills of his clientele, he was charitable and generous to a fault, and those of unfortunate circumstances received the same careful consideration from Dr. Sutherland as did those in the higher stations of life. During Dr. Sutherland’s residency in this city he took an active interest in the social, civic and fraternal affairs and at times viewed the trend of business and life in general with a most optimistic viewpoint.

Dr. Sutherland was born at Lowell, Mich., on March 14, 1868, the son of Henry and Alice SUTHERLAND. He was a Mechano-Therapist and graduated from a school in Chicago thirty years ago. He operated offices in Mishawaka and in this city coming here from Mishawaka in November 1917.

The deceased was married to Lola M. RAVENCROFT in a ceremony which was performed at Mishawaka on November 17, 1891. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Lodge at Mishawaka. He became a member of the Presbyterian Church in 1893.

died Saturday in the Groveland hotel, 3321 Cottage Grove ave., Chicago.

The 152 midgets at the fair contributed enough flowers to load two motor trucks.

Tiny James DOYLE, “mayor” of the village said:

“We little people would like to attend her funeral services, but that is impossible. Perhaps a few of us will accompany the body to Indiana. All of us are deeply sorrowful.”

Although she gave much of her earnings to charity, the ponderous “little fat lady” was reported to have saved a considerable fortune during her long career.

Walter [McCALL] and Ernest McCALL, of this city, are in receipt of Vancouver, Wash. newspapers which give an account of the spectacular death of their nephew Roland [McCALL], 26 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. McCALL, of Vancouver.

Young McCall, who was noted throughout the West as a fancy and high diver, plunged to his death in a 110 foot dive into the Columbia river in a mountain which was featured on the Fourth of July. The following excerpts taken from the Clark County Sun, Vancouver explain how the tragedy occurred:

“Only the drowning of Roland McCALL, daring young high diver, cast a pall of tragedy over the afternoon’s entertainment. His dive, the highest ever attempted on the Columbia river, came as the climax to the day’s special events. As the eyes of the 10,000 spectators, including his mother, centered on his flag-draped platform 110 feet up on the lift tower of the Interstate bridge he spread his arms and floated down like a swan in a perfect dive, striking somewhat flat, as he intended according to Evon UPTON, who stood on the platform with him.

“He came up, swam half a dozen strokes, then sank just as life-savers on the Anchor club-float were about to toss him the usual life-buoy. Seized by the powerful eddy below the pier he sank without a struggle. Half a dozen members of the Vancouver Anchor club immediately dived after the sinking swimmer, but were unable to reach him. Dragging operations, continued Wednesday and Thursday, have proved futile.

“Young McCall, an expert swimmer and high diver, last year wanted to dive off the top of the lift tower, 250 feet in the air, but was refused permission. He dove off the 80-foot lift span instead, suffering no ill effects. The Oregon highway commission this year refused permission for the 100-foot dive until the last minute, when McCall signed a release relieving the regatta officials and the state of Oregon of all responsibility. Those in the rescue boat believe he may have broken his neck or back or been stunned by the force of his terrific fall.

“The only higher ‘dive’ known is that of Steven BRODIN, who is supposed to have leaped feet first 238 feet from the Brooklyn bridge in New York, although there is no confirmation of this legend.”

Mrs. Sam WENGER has received word that her great-grandson, Jackie Edward PENNY, aged five months, died on July 6. Jackie was the son of Mrs. John PENNY of Sherman, Texas. Mrs. Penny was Miss Bernice BRICKEL of this city.

A. B. CROMLEY, fire chief in the town of Culver, was almost instantly killed and former Fire Chief, Arthur FISHBURN was critically, if not fatally injured, when the truck, which Cromley was driving, skidded and overturned on a freshly oiled “S” curve known as the Judah curve about 1:15 Monday afternoon.

Cromley’s neck was broken, his body was badly crushed and he sustained other injuries. One leg was horribly mangled.

Fishburn was rushed to the office of Dr. H. H. TALLMAN, where his condition was believed serious, although full extent of his injuries had not yet been determined. It was thought he had sustained a skull fracture, however.

Two other firemen, Jack TAYLOR and Carey CUMMINS, Jr., sustained cuts and bruises on their faces and bodies and were not seriously hurt. Ed BOBERG, another fireman escaped uninjured. Taylor, Cummins and Boberg were riding on the rear end of the truck.

The accident occurred at the Judah curve. Eye witnesses declared that Cromley was driving about 50 miles per hour when he approached the curves. The truck skidded on the fresh oil, turned completely over and came to a stop standing right side up about thirty yards from where it started skidding.

Cromley lay about midway from the place where the truck started to skid and where it came to a halt. Fishburn had been thrown clear of the truck or attempted to leap clear, and landed in the road a short distance from where the truck overturned.

Boberg, Taylor and Cummins had been hurled from the rear end of the truck before it overturned, rolling into the ditch by the side of the road.

When the three firemen and other witnesses reached Cromley he gasped a few breaths and died. Fishburn was rushed to the physicians office, unconscious.

The truck which the town of Culver purchased new for about $7,500 three years ago, is almost a complete wreck. It was the only modern piece of fire fighting equipment the town of Culver had available.

The fire which caused the alarm to be given was a grass fire, started by a carelessly tossed cigarette, near the H. A. RICE cottage on the east side of Lake Maxinkuckee. Cottagers had succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the fire truck tragedy occurred. No damage was caused by the fire.

It was reported by people along the road that Cromley was driving about 50 miles an hour when he took the curves. The truck had skidded when it went around a curve on the concrete highway and again on the hard surface highway almost turning around at one of the curves.
When the truck hit the Judah curve, it skidded to the left, into the ditch, turned over, rolling and skidding for 50 yards.

Cromley was proprietor of the Culver Dray Line. He was appointed fire chief about a year ago.

Besides his wife, Cromley is survived by a daughter, Helen [CROMLEY], about 17, and a son, Merwin [CROMLEY], about 7 years old.

Mrs. Salome MYERS, aged 105, the oldest resident of Indiana, died at her home two miles east of Disko in the eastern part of Fulton county at 11:15 o’clock Saturday night. Death was due to leakage of the heart and high blood pressure. The aged lady had been bedfast for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Salome Myers lived with her two daughters, Mrs. Catherine DRUDGE and Mrs.
Mary SECOR, in a three room log cabin which had been her home for the past 76 years. She had been in fair health until five weeks ago when she was seized with an ailment which doctors were unable to overcome. For the two weeks preceding her death Mrs. Myers had not taken any nourishment.

Mrs. Myers was born in Eaton, Ohio on October 29, 1828. When she was seven years old her parents, John and Hanna DILLMAN, came in a covered wagon to make their home near Disko. Mrs. Myers despite her age assisted her parents in clearing their farm. Ninety-seven years ago a log cabin was built from trees which were felled on their farm. This cabin was built a short way south of the home in which Mrs. Myers resided at the time she died.

Mrs. Myers received a meager education from her parents and also by attending writing and spelling schools which were in vogue at that time. The schools were taught by itinerant school teachers or circuit riding ministers.

On September 7, 1854 the deceased was married to Peter MYERS. Four years after their marriage the Myers’ built a log cabin which was the home of Mrs. Myers at the time of her death. Mrs. Myers assisted her husband in felling the trees for the cabin and also in hewing the logs from which it was constructed.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers’ married life was but for only a nine year period as he was drafted in the Civil War and went to fight for the North in that great conflict. Mr. Myers was killed on a southern battlefield and was buried in the South. Despite the death of her husband Mrs. Myers, who was the mother of four children, two boys and two girls, carried on and worked in the fields and managed her farm while she reared her children.

Mrs. Myers last October 29 was the honored guest at a birthday party which was held in her home by her daughters. They baked a cake for her on which 105 candles were placed. In addition to the members of her family over 500 guests called on Mrs. Myers during the day. The birthday was the first that Mrs. Myers was not able to distinguish her guests either by sight or hearing. Her eyesight had failed her during her 104th year and she was fast losing her sense of hearing.

On her birthdays, Mrs. Myers’ daughter stated that each year their mother was visited by a large number of visitors. All of them had remarked to Mrs. Myers’ memory and the manner in which she could recall events of an earlier day. On the occasion of her 104th birthday the following story was carried in the News-Sentinel and was an account of Mrs. Myers’ life as it was related by her daughters. The story follows:

“She has never known what it was to be ill and require the services of a doctor. So far as she can recall and to the knowledge of her daughters she has never had even a common cold. Until a year ago she helped with work around the home but now that blindness has come, the only thing she does is take care of herself. During the last two weeks scores of persons called to see Mrs. Myers. Many were strangers who had heard of the elderly woman.

‘One of them said to me recently,’ remarked Mrs. Drudge, ‘You ought to put of a box and charge admission to see this quaint little home and your mother,” but I told her we’d never be that little and visitors are always welcome.’

“Mrs. Myers has lost some of the enthusiasm she previously displayed and is contented to sit and dream of other days. She can recall the days when as a little girl and on the same land where she now lives, she and her parents had to spend much of their time watching Indians to see that they did not steal the farm crops.

‘But,’ she says, ‘they were for the most part friendly. White folks had to be watched just the same as the Indians or they would have stolen our crops also.

‘Times have changed. I remember when my father had to ride fifty miles on horseback to have our corn ground. Now they have automobiles going by our farm all the time. Airplanes are a common sight. They travel across the United States in less time than father had to spend.
going to the grist mills in Fort Wayne and Logansport. Then there were weeks at a time before we ever received any mail. Now the mailman passes our door every day."

"Mrs. Myers also delights in telling how on winter nights she had to keep a wood fire going all night at times in order to provide her father with burning fagots which he would hurl from the doors and windows to keep wolves away.

"Those nights were terrible and fearfully long when the wolves howled as they gathered around our cabin," she said.

"Mrs. Myers is one of the few persons who have lived to see any of their children celebrate a golden wedding. Her son, E. L. MYERS, and his wife have been married fifty-two years. The fourth child in the family, a son, was killed in a sawmill accident near Plymouth some years ago."

The death of Mrs. Myers marked the passing of the third centenarian who had lived in the eastern part of Fulton county. The first to die was Dr. E. A. CASE, aged 101, who died at his home in Akron two years ago. The second was Mrs. Sarah BARNISEL, aged 103, who died last spring. All of the aged persons had met frequently during their declining years when they talked of events which had happened when they were younger.

Mrs. Myers was a member of the Brethren Church which is located two miles east of her home. She attended church services regularly until her age would not permit of her leaving home. The two daughters and son are the only immediate survivors.

The funeral services will be held from the South Pleasant church eight miles east of Akron at 2 p.m. Tuesday. The services will be in charge of Rev. Hugh MILLER of North Manchester, assisted by Rev. Levi HILL, a neighbor. Burial will be made in the cemetery adjacent to the South Pleasant Church.

It is expected that the funeral services will be attended by many people as the aged lady has a wide acquaintanceship in this and surrounding counties.

Tuesday, August 7, 1934

The funeral services for the late Mrs. Salome MYERS, aged 105, the oldest resident of Indiana who died at her home near Disko in the eastern part of Fulton County Saturday night were held from the South Pleasant Church eight miles east of Akron at 2 o’clock this afternoon.

The services were in charge of Rev. Hugh MILLER of North Manchester who was assisted by the Rev. Levi HILL, a neighbor of Mrs. Myers. Burial was made in the cemetery adjacent to the church. The services were largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. A number of newspaper men were present at the funeral as were several news-reel men.

Rev. Miller in his funeral oration reviewed the history-making events which have occurred in the United States since Mrs. Myers was born. He marveled at the fact that she had lived beyond the three score and ten years which the Bible states is allotted to every person.

Mrs. Myers during her lifetime was visited by many persons who came to talk with her in her little three room log cabin which she helped her husband Peter MYERS construct 76 years ago. Mr. Myers was killed in the Civil War less than nine years after he was married.

Despite this handicap, Mrs. Myers carried on and cared for her five children while she also attended to her farm duties. Her daughters oft times assisted her with her farm labors.

Mrs. Myers at the time of her death was the oldest Civil War Veteran widow in the United States the government pension bureau has informed her immediate relatives. Mrs. Myers also was the seventh oldest mother in the United States a survey made by the Woman’s Federation of Clubs showed early this year. An Indian mother was the oldest.

Mrs. Myers is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Catherine DRUDGE and Mrs. Mary SECOR, who lived with her, and a son Elijah MYERS, who lives on a farm near Akron; thirteen grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren and 45 great-great-grandchildren.

A tale often told in the old days in the Myers home has been recalled many times in recent years as Mrs. Myers reached her advanced age. It was first told by Mrs. Myers in her younger days. On the occasion she and a woman companion were in the huckleberry marshes, when they were met by an aged Indian woman, who insisted upon telling their fortunes.

Mrs. Myers refused and the Indian woman in a huff turned away, saying, “You’ll live to be a hundred and five.” The story told in her younger days was recalled often as Mrs. Myers neared the hundred mark, and whether the Indian woman had any knowledge that others did not have, yet the prediction came true.

Mrs. Lester DISHER, 77, well-known resident of Bourbon, died in the Marshall County Hospital in Plymouth at 1:45 o’clock Monday afternoon of burns received about 6 o’clock that morning. Mrs. Disher was fatally burned when her apron caught fire as she worked around a gasoline stove, preparing to do her laundry. She suffered severe burns on the upper part of her body and especially on her neck.

The accident occurred in Mrs. Disher’s home on Road 30, one block east of the stop light in Bourbon, where Mrs. Disher has lived alone since the death of her husband about a year ago.

When she noticed her apron ablaze Mrs. Disher attempted to jerk it from her. Failing, she dashed out the door onto the front porch of her home. Four men, enroute east on Road 30, saw the woman run from the house, and leaped to her assistance.

One report stated that one of the men pulled off his coat as he ran and used it in an attempt to smother the flames while another man seized a rug from the floor. Another report stated the men seized rugs from the floor and wrapped around Mrs. Disher, smothering the flames.

In a few moments a crowd had gathered and Mrs. Disher was rushed to a physician’s office and later was taken to the Marshall County Hospital in an ambulance. The four men climbed into the car again and drove away. In the excitement none of the crowd had secured any of their names, it was reported.

William CLAY, 70, prominent Fulton county truck farmer perished in the flames which destroyed his home early Sunday morning when he rushed back into the flaming structure to secure valuable papers and money which he had secured in a bedroom in the home. The Clay farm is located four miles west of the city on the Burton road and is known as the Julius ROWLEY farm.

The charred body was found in the ruins of the home at 3:30 o’clock Sunday morning by searchers who could not reach the debris before that because of the intensity of the flames which were fanned by a northwest wind which swept across the prairie to the west of the Clay home.

The body was badly burned. A portion of the legs and arms were missing and the head was gone as though it had been severed. The body was moved to the Zimmerman Brothers Funeral Parlor where it will be prepared for burial.

The fire started it is believed from an overheated kitchen stove. Mr. and Mrs. Clay canned peaches Saturday evening and had retired shortly after 9 o’clock. At 11:30 they were awakened by smoke and rushed into the yard of their home clad in only their night clothes.

The fire had started in the northwest corner of their home. Mr. Clay threw several buckets of water on the flames but could not control them. He then rushed to the barn where he liberated livestock and returned to the flaming structure.

Mr. Clay could see that the home was doomed and recalled that he had left the money and papers in the closet. He rushed into the house but was overcome by smoke and his wife braved the fire to drag him to the open.

Mrs. Clay revived her husband then ran to the home of a neighbor where she had the fire department from this city called. Mr. Clay revived and then dashed again into the house to salvage the money and papers which were kept in a closet in a bedroom on the first floor of the house.

When Mrs. Clay and neighbors returned to the home they could not find Mr. Clay and thought that perhaps he had gone to the barn or some other building. A search was made and he could not be found. Conclusive evidence that Mr. Clay was in the flameswept home was given by his pet German police dog which went to the front door of the structure and would howl and attempt to enter the home after his master.

Indications pointed that Mr. Clay had reached the closet where the valuables were kept when he was overcome. This closet luckily was not over the basement of the home. Had it been Mr. Clay’s body would have been cremated.

The farm home, a seven room two-story structure, was reduced to ashes. Two tanks of gasoline kept in the garage exploded, and thus greatly intensified the fire. Not a single article was saved from the Clay home. The amount of insurance which Mr. Clay carried on his home was not learned.

Over $400 which Mr. Clay had secreted on his farm was recovered by searchers after they had been furnished information as to where it could be found by Mrs. Clay. Some of the money was hidden in a can in a log pile and some of it had been buried in the ground.

Mr. Clay was born in Fulton County on July 20, 1864, the son of William and Nancy CLAY. He had lived in Fulton county all of his life. Coroner Herbert ZIMMERMAN held that death was due to suffocation.

Mr. Clay was married to Ida Arvilla FERTIGE at Plymouth on December 16, 1891. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of this city.

Mr. Feidner was driving south into Logansport when the accident occurred. He had driven to Logansport to obtain some supplies. The car after being struck by the train was carried across the street pavement and tossed against the north embankment.

Pulled from the wreck Mr. Feidner was still conscious but soon lapsed into a coma after being taken to the Cass County Hospital in Logansport. Both the hand and foot brakes on the Feidner car were locked so that it proved that Feidner saw the approaching train. Death was due to a fractured skull. He also sustained a fracture on both sides of the lower jaw.

The body of the Feidner car was twisted and crushed, three tires were torn off, two wheels were broken and the engine dislodged from the frame. The blinker lights at the crossing were in operation at the time. The train crew were all residents of Logansport.

Dr. O. P. WAITE, one of Rochester’s oldest and most respected citizens, who would have been 92 years of age on November 2nd, passed away at 4 o’clock Monday afternoon at his residence, 1206 South Main Street, after an illness of four weeks duration. He had enjoyed remarkably good health until a month ago when he failed rapidly. His death was due to old age and he was in possession of all his faculties until a short time before the end.

Oliver Penny WAITE was born in Fayetteville, Fayette Co., Va., Nov. 2, 1842, the fourth son of Oliver Leffel and Mary Carroll WAITE. His father and mother were descendants of well-known colonial families, who were distinguished for professional men - jurists, educators, ministers and especially physicians and surgeons.

When Dr. Waite was three years old he came with his parents to Cass County, Indiana and settled near Lewisburg. Lewisburg at that time was an important trading post for the Indians, and the father, having been a dry goods merchant in Virginia, clerked in the general store of BUYER and HANEY.

In September 1850, Dr. Waite’s father died, and his mother, lonely and homesick for relatives and friends in old Virginia, sold her home and with her six small children returned to her native state where they remained several years. The mother and oldest son conducted a general store. The other boys worked for their uncles, Dr. James WAITE and Dr. Anderson WAITE, both of whom lived on planations, owning many slaves and farming extensively. When civil war was declared, being northern sympathizers the family again returned to Lewisburg. Land was bought, a clearing made and another home was established.

In the spring of 1867 Dr. Waite began the study of medicine, reading in the office of Dr. ADRIAN of Lewisburg. That fall he entered Chicago Medical College where he studied two years. Then he taught school several terms, working on the farm during the summer months, and when sufficient means had been secured he entered the medical department of Butler College from which he graduated.

Dr. Waite began the practice of medicine at Perrysburg, staying there about three months. From there he went to Marshtown where he practiced a year. Then he purchased the office and equipment of Dr. CLEVINGER in Fulton. Here he met with signal success, and won the respect and esteem of all who knew him, and proved that “A wise physician, skilled our wounds to heal, is more than armies in the public weal.”

After practicing in Fulton for a number of years in 1881 Dr. Waite moved to Rochester and a partnership was formed with the late Dr. J. C. SPOHN. This partnership lasted until failing health compelled him to withdraw and for a period of two years he was able to do little. When he did regain his health he decided to retire from medical work and give is attention to his growing business and farming interests.

In Dr. Waite’s long and useful life he saw many changes take place. He saw Indian trails give way to steel rails, corduroy roads to smooth concrete. The ox cart and conastoga wagon to pullman coaches, automobiles and airplanes. He saw dense forests and deep swamps turned into fertile fields, the log school house and cabin home to centralized schools and palatial residences. In his own profession he witnessed discoveries and inventions revolutionize means and methods of treatment and surgery accomplish almost unthinkable success.

Among Dr. Waite’s many pronounced characteristics were a deep love of home, kindliness, and loyalty to the highest standards of living. Always serene, gentle and considerate, deeply attached to friends of which he had a legion, speaking ill of no one, glad to live and let live, his home to him a place almost divine, the world was a better place for his having lived in it. The community has lost a valued citizen and honorable Christian gentleman.

Dr. Waite was twice married, first to Miss Agnes AITKEN (deceased) and second to Miss Emma ARCHEY, who with a number of nephews and nieces survive.

Dr. Waite was an honored member of Rochester Lodge No. 79, F. and A.M. He was also a member of several medical organizations and was one of the few remaining charter members of the Fulton County Medical Society.

The funeral will be held at the Waite home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o’clock with Rev. Harold TURPIN of the Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial in the family lot in the I.O.O.F. Cemetery.

Samuel NELSON, aged 66, well-known Newcastle township farmer, who resides eight miles northeast of the city, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself. Mr. Nelson selected an unusual place for the method used to end his life. He hanged himself in bed.

Making an improvised rope by using his night gown the aged man fastened one end to a tall bed post. Evidently standing up as he placed the noose about his neck, Mr. Nelson threw his feet from beneath him and as he fell the noose tightened to cause strangulation.

Discovery of the tragedy was made at 6 o’clock last night by a son, Naaman Nelson, who resides on a neighboring farm. The son milked a number of cows for his father each day. After milking the cows Naaman went to the house.

When his calls were unanswered by his father the son entered the house and started a search. He discovered his father’s lifeless body and immediately called neighbors, Coroner Herbert ZIMMERMAN and Sheriff Boyd PETERSON.

Coroner Zimmerman after an examination of the body held that Mr. Nelson must have committed the act early Tuesday morning. Relatives state that Mr. Nelson has been in ill health for several years and it is thought this was the cause for his suicide.

Rockfield, Sept. 1. -- One man was killed and four others escaped injury at 1 o’clock Saturday afternoon when a pole on the rear of a wagon crashed through the windshield of an automobile and into the rear seat of the machine, in an accident which occurred on state road 25 east of here. Kenneth MILLER, 33, a farmer living near Macy, Ind., was killed, the pole crushing his chest.

The mishap occurred when Carl EMERY, 44, of near Macy, driver of the machine, attempted to pass the wagon load of poles, driven by Russell GRONINGER of Rockfield. The pole extended beyond the rear of the wagon but was marked with a red flag. The Emery car struck a hole in the road in attempting to go around the wagon and veered into the extending pole, which passed through the windshield past two of the men in the front seat and hit Miller in the chest.

Death, according to Coroner John FITZPATRICK who investigated, was almost instantaneous. He said a verdict of accidental death would be returned. Neither Groninger nor Emery was held.

Miller and Emery along with Ralph SWANK, Jacob DAWALT and W. T. COFFIN of Macy, were enroute to the WOLF ranch west of Delphi to attend a livestock sale, when the mishap occurred.

The body was taken to the Blythe and Son funeral home in Delphi but later was transferred to the Ditmire undertaking establishment in Fulton.

Two children were killed, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George NICHOLS and another of their children, were seriously injured in an auto accident, four miles south of Kewanna near the old Catholic cemetery, at 2 o’clock this afternoon. The fourth child in the Nichols family, a boy, escaped without injury.

The dead are:
Everett Eugene NICHOLS, aged 4, fractured skull
Lois Jane NICHOLS, aged 2, internal injuries.

The injured are:
Mrs. NICHOLS, had cuts and internal injuries. Not expected to live.
Mr. NICHOLS, had cuts and bruises. One cut on scalp requiring many stitches
John NICHOLS, 5, cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred at a cross roads when a car driven by Mr. Nichols collided with a truck driven by Arch VanMETER of Winamac, who is employed by John BIGLER, of this city, owner of a portable saw mill outfit, which is now located on a farm five miles northwest of the city.

Mr. Nichols and the members of his family were enroute to Kewanna at the time of the accident while VanMeter was on his way to Winamac. Nichols was driving north and VanMeter west.

After the crash the lighter car turned over. Passing motorists took the injured members of the Nichols family to Dr. SAUNDERS’ office at Grass Creek.

The dead were moved to the Harrison Funeral parlors at Kewanna. The Nichols family lived on a farm three miles southwest of Grass Creek. Mr. Nichols is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter NICHOLS of Kewanna.

Deputy Coroner Don BERRY is conducting an investigation into the fatal crash.

Twelve Mile, Ind., Oct. 1. -- Alfred Ezra JONES, 61 years old, a resident of Twelve Mile for the past 29 years, was found dead Saturday afternoon along the C. & O. railroad track south of the local station, presumably a suicide.

morning.
Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Fannie BELL, with whom the deceased made his home, and a half-brother, William JONES, also of Twelve Mile.

Winamac, Oct. 1. -- John WINTERS, Sr., 60, widely known farmer, ended his life by hanging in the shed on his farm, northwest of Monterey, sometime Thursday. He was found dead about 10 o’clock Saturday morning by a neighbor, Clarence WARREN, who investigated when his absence was noted.
Winters probably ended his life late Thursday or early Friday according to Dr. T. E.
CARNEAL, coroner, who investigated. Despondency over ill health and his wife’s absence, who is visiting with her relatives in Plymouth, are attributed to have caused his action.
Survivors included the widow, three sons, John [WINTERS], Jr., Carl [WINTERS] and Owen WINTERS.

Tuesday, October 2, 1934
A double funeral service will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the home of Mr. and
Mrs. Walter NICHOLS who live on a farm southwest of Grass Creek for their grandchildren, Everett [NICHOLS] and Lois Jane NICHOLS, who were killed in an auto accident south of Kewanna Monday afternoon.
The services will be in charge of Rev. W. G. EVERS pastor of the Methodist Church at Royal Center. Burial will be made in the cemetery at Grass Creek. The services are expected to be largely attended.
The two children met their death when a car in which they were riding with their parents,
Mr. and Mrs. George NICHOLS, who reside on a farm three miles southwest of Grass Creek, collided with one driven by Arch VanMETER of Winamac, a driver for John BIGLER, sawmill operator of this city.
Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and son Robert [NICHOLS] received many bad bruises and lacerations while a son John [NICHOLS] escaped without injury. Doctors in attendance on Mrs. Nichols reported today that she was making good progress and was thought to be out of danger. She received injuries to her neck and back.
The Nichols family were riding in a Model T 1926 Ford roadster at the time of the crash.
It is said that some of the children were riding in a luggage carrier on the side of the car. After the crash the Nichols car, which was headed north, turned completely around and was headed south.
The car driven by VanMeter was progressing west in a side road. After the crash the light Nichols car rammed into a cement corner post. It is thought that the two children who were killed received their injuries when they were thrown against the cement post.
Coroner Herbert ZIMMERMAN was in Grass Creek today taking statements from witnesses to the crash and also from the principals in the tragedy. Coroner Zimmerman at press time had not made known his finding. VanMeter was not held by the coroner or by Sheriff Boyd PETERSON who was called to the scene of the accident.
Thurman HUFFMAN, who resides a half mile east of the accident, was the first to reach the site of the wreck and took the father and the boy who died in the doctor’s office, to Grass Creek. The mother, the dead girl and the baby were taken to Grass Creek in VanMeter’s truck.
Huffman was on his way to the Margaret HINES farm where he is helping with the construction of a barn, when he came upon the accident. He arrived probably a minute or so after the crash. Huffman said he was told that the fatally injured boy was tossed against the fence and was hanging there head-down when the father took him in his arms and laid him on the ground. The boy was gasping for his breath and life for ten minutes after reaching the office of Dr. SAUNDERS.

The view at the intersection is not entirely unobstructed, yet it is possible to observe cars in all directions when within thirty feet of the actual intersection.

Side curtains were up on the Nichols car and it is believed that he was robbed of clear vision because of this. The road traveled by VanMeter is a sort of a main highway. The crossroad is sometimes known as the Henry WARE corner.

The right side of the car was badly stoved in from the impact when hit by the truck and from the second impact when it was jammed against the fence post. The windshield was shattered and it is believed that Mrs. Nichols suffered her ugly scalp laceration when she was struck by flying glass or rammed her head through the windshield.

The Nichols live on the Old Mike MILLER farm, located about a half mile south of the intersection. They have another child, Owen [NICHOLS], who is in the second grade at the Grass Creek school.

Logansport, Ind., Nov. 15. (UP) -- Frederick LANDIS, 62, author, editor and congressman-elect from the 2nd Indiana district died in Cass county hospital today from pneumonia.

He had been ill for nearly a month.

Landis was the only Indiana Republican to win a seat in Congress in the election November 6. His death will necessitate a special election to name a successor from the 2nd district.

Landis’ wife, five of his six children and his brother, Kenesaw Mountain LANDIS, high commissioner of baseball, were at the bedside when death came. The sixth child, Kenesaw Mountain, II, was enroute from Denver, Colo., where he has been undergoing treatment for respiratory ailment.

Young Landis arrived in Chicago via plane at 4 a.m. today and hurried to Logansport by automobile.

Landis died at 3:33 a.m. He was stricken a fortnight before the election, was seriously ill for a time but slow improvement was so great that he was able to sit up election day.

His heart was so weakened by the long strain, that he suffered a relapse yesterday morning. His family was summoned to the hospital but Landis showed improvement last night. Another heart attack caused his death.

Landis’ victory in the election was due largely to his personal popularity. His illness prevented his taking part in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Had he survived it would have been his third term in Congress, having served previously in the 58th and 59th session, 1903 to 1907.

Landis was the second member of his family to serve in Congress.

A brother Charles B. [LANDIS], was in the lower house from 1897 to 1907.

A graduate of Michigan University Law School, Landis divided his time between law, politics, writing and newspaper work.

He was editor of the Logansport Pharos-Tribune from 1926 to 1933 retiring to start his own magazine “The Hoosier Editor” and to make a series of radio talks.

Survivors include his widow, the former Bessie BARKER, four sons, Kenesaw Mountain [LANDIS], II, 23, Frederick [LANDIS], 21, Charles [LANDIS] 14, and Lincoln [LANDIS] 12, and two daughters, Elizabeth Ann [LANDIS], 21, and Frances Katherine [LANDIS], 16.

Frederick and Elizabeth are students at Indiana University.

Frederick LANDIS, novelist, editor, playwright and politician, was born at Seven Mile, Butler County, O., Aug. 18, 1872, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Abraham H. LANDIS.

Three years later the family moved to Logansport.

Landis was graduated from Logansport High School and from the University of Michigan Law School. Following his graduation from Michigan in 1895 he started to practice law in Logansport.

His political career started in 1902 when he was elected to Congress from the old 11th district, defeating the veteran statesman, George W. STEEL, Marion. He was re-elected two years later, serving in the 58th and 59 Congresses. He was defeated for re-election in 1906, and returned to Logansport to embark upon a writing career.
Landis was in Congress at the same time that a brother, the late Charles B. LANDIS, former Delphi editor, was a member of the body. Charles served from 1897 to 1909. Another brother, Kenesaw Mountain LANDIS, is commissioner of professional baseball.

After devoting nearly three years to writing, Landis returned to Politics in 1912 to become one of the organizers of the Progressive party which sought to elect Theodore Roosevelt president.

Landis was temporary chairman of the party’s first state convention in Indiana in 1912 and was a delegate at large to the national convention. He was defeated for election as lieutenant governor of Indiana on the Progressive ticket in the same year.

After the Progressive party broke up, Landis returned to the Republican ranks and unsuccessfully sought the nomination for governor in 1932. He also failed to win the nomination for governor in 1908.

In the May primaries this year he won the Republican nomination for Congress from the second district and then went on to win the election Nov. 6, being the only Indiana Republican to win a seat in the National House of Representatives.

Landis wrote two novels, “The Angel of Lonesome Hill,” and “The Glory of His Country.” He was co-author of the latter when it was dramatized as “The Copperhead.” His plays included “The People Are Coming,” “The Water Wagon,” and “Montana.”

He was a former editor of the Logansport Pharos-Tribune but in his later years edited the “Hoosier Editor,” a monthly periodical which contained his own essays, editorial and comments.

Landis was considered one of the most able orators in the state and was in constant demand for political gatherings and other meetings. He obtained national attention on a series of radio talks as “The Hoosier Editor.”

Besides his brother, Kenesaw, Landis is survived by his widow, four sons, Kenesaw Mountain (II), Frederick, Jr., Charles and Lincoln, and two daughters, Elizabeth Ann and Frances.

Louise Helen NOCKELS, 21, of Carroll, Iowa, a member of the junior class at Indiana University was instantly killed Wednesday evening in an automobile accident south of Disko and just off State Highway 114. The Pontiac sedan, which was driven by Mary Louise BARNHART of Goshen turned over on its side when the young lady lost control of the car after striking fresh gravel. The driver and other occupants of the car, Mrs. Dean L. BARNHART and Jean H. KELLER, 19, of New Carlisle, all were uninjured. The Barnharts are former residents of Rochester.

It is believed that Miss Nockels, who was in the rear seat with Miss Keller, was attempting to get out of the automobile when it skidded along in the ditch. She was found outside and beneath the overturned machine with her skull fractured and chest crushed. She was dead when the car was lifted off of her by passing motorists.

Mrs. Barnhart had driven to Indianapolis and met the three girls there to bring them to Goshen. All three of the young ladies are members of the Delta Gamma sorority at Indiana University. Miss Nockels had planned to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with the Barnhart family.

The accident occurred about 7:30 on the short stretch of east and west gravel road about a hundred feet west of the cross roads just south of Disko. The car had just passed two machines, one driven by Frank DILLMAN, farmer, and the other by Miss ZEGAFUSE, a Disko school teacher. The latter’s car was disabled and was being pushed into town by Dillman.

In turning back to the right the Pontiac skidded in loose gravel and the right wheels dropped off the side of the road. The car proceeded with the two wheels in the ditch for about a 100 feet then striking a Troad intersection came up onto the road again where it once more struck fresh gravel. It went into the ditch at the south side of the road and turned over on its left side. The three women inside the car were not hurt in any way.

Dillman and others gave immediate aid and lifted the car off the young lady in a few minutes. She was brought to a physician’s office at Akron where it was stated she must have been killed instantly. Coroner Herbert ZIMMERMAN was called and later the body was brought to Rochester.

The parents at Carroll, Iowa, were notified and on Thursday Dr. H. W. SHIRLEY, stepfather, accompanied by Dean L. BARNHART, editor of Goshen, came to Rochester. Prof. D. A. ROTHROCK and Mrs. ROTHROCK of Bloomington and their son, Phillip [ROTHROCK], relatives of the coed also arrived later and in the evening they took the body to Plymouth where it was started on its journey home by train.

South Bend, Dec. 5. (UP) -- Funeral services for the Honorable Rome C. STEPHENSON will be held Friday afternoon at his home. Burial will be made in a cemetery at Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Rochester citizens were shocked by the news of the sudden death of one of its former prominent citizens, which occurred at his home 201 West North Shore Drive, in South Bend, late Tuesday evening.

Although intimate friends in this city knew that Mr. Stephenson had been in failing health for ten weeks from heart trouble, his condition was not believed extremely critical. The former resident suffered a relapse last Saturday and from that time on he gradually grew weaker until the end.

Rome C. Stephenson came with his parents from Wabash, Indiana to Rochester in the early 1880’s, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. STEPHENSON, residing in the residence located at 328 West 10th street this city, for a long number of years.

While still a young man Mr. Stephenson entered the abstracting business in partnership with his father. While thus employed, he studied law under the tutelage of Attorney George W. HOLMAN and a few years later became a co-partner in this professional field which later materialized into one of the outstanding law firms of northern Indiana.

During his association with the law firm of HOLMAN, STEPHENSON & BRYANT, Mr. Stephenson took a prominent part in commercial interests of the city. He was one of the organizers of the ROCHESTER TELEPHONE CO., President of the MUTUAL INVESTMENT and the ROCHESTER IMPROVEMENT CO. (these being real estate improvements projects in the north and northeastern section of Rochester), and a co-organizer in the first telephone plant on Mackinac Island.

In the year of 1906, Mr. Stephenson organized the ROCHESTER TRUST AND SAVINGS CO., which had its offices in the building now occupied by HOLMAN & BERNETHA law offices. In the operation of this financial institution Mr. Stephenson served in capacity of president. During his experiences in the city’s commercial growth he was persuaded to enter the political field and was elected to the State Senate, representing Fulton and Wabash counties in a most efficient manner in the state legislature.

In the latter years of his residency in Rochester, Mr. Stephenson was leader in every worthwhile commercial and civic project. His dynamic personality and business sagacity in the financial fields brought him a call from the St. Joseph Loan & Trust Co., in the year of 1908 which he accepted. A short time later he was elected vice-President of the St. Joseph Trust & Savings Bank and in later years to the presidency.

In his business career in the up-state city, Mr. Stephenson’s shrewd and broad understanding of state and national affairs brought him nation-wide recognition in financial circles, records of which are carried in the South Bend press report of his demise.
Throughout all of his years of residency in South Bend Mr. Stephenson kept in close touch with his friends and former business associates in this city, visiting Rochester several times each year. The following article from South Bend gives an interesting review of the colorful career of the former, highly esteemed Rochester citizen:

South Bend, Dec. 5, -- Rome C. STEPHENSON, 69, former president of the American Bankers’ Association and one of the city’s foremost financial authorities for a quarter of a century, died late yesterday at his home.

Mr. Stephenson suffered a heart attack several months ago and had been confined to his bed most of the time since. Last week he was able to walk to the front porch. However, last Saturday he suffered another attack and sank slowly. The cause of his death was given as acute coronary thrombosis of the heart.

He retained consciousness to the end. At his bedside was Mrs. Mary STUART STEPHENSON, whom he married several years ago. His first wife, who was Miss Ella Maxwell of Sandusky, O., died April 7, 1930.

One son, Joseph M. STEPHENSON, South Bend newspaper publisher, was enroute to California with the Notre Dame football team. He was notified of the death at Tucson, Ariz., last night and was returning to South Bend by airplane. Another son, Hugh R. STEPHENSON arrived last night from Chicago.

Funeral services will be held Friday. Burial is expected to be in Upper Sandusky, O.

Regarded as the dean of Indiana bankers, Mr. Stephenson was known by thousands of citizens of northern Indiana.

From the time he arrived in South Bend in 1908 from Rochester to assume the vice presidency of the St. Joseph County Savings Bank and of the St. Joseph Loan & Trust Company, he was a leading figure in the civic and industrial life of the city.

He continued in these positions until 1915, when he was elected president of the trust company. He also retained his official connection with the savings bank.

His rise in the banking profession is a record of steady, consistent achievement. After serving as president of the Indiana Bankers Association and on numerous committees of the American Bankers’ Association, he was honored with the presidency of the latter organization in October, 1930.

Only Monday Mr. Stephenson had been named a member of the committee to protect the interests of common stockholders in the reorganization of the Studebaker Corporation. Other committee members were prominent metropolitan bankers.

Born in Wabash, Mr. Stephenson was educated in the public schools until he was 14. He then launched a program of self-education by the reading of books.

During this time he supported himself by a number of boyhood business ventures. These included the selling of water lilies from Lake Manitou, near Rochester, to florists in large cities, and the selling of a grease remover he prepared himself.

His aptitude for the law profession soon won him a place in the law office of George W. Holman at Rochester.

By close study he was able to appear before the bar by the time he was 21. His association with Mr. Holman was a prosperous one. The firm was regarded as one of the outstanding law partnerships in northern Indiana.

For twenty-one years Mr. Stephenson continued his law practice. He had become familiar with mortgage loans and in 1906 established the Rochester Trust & Savings Company. Two years later he came to South Bend.

The crew of the train did not know of the accident until they reached Argos. The body was badly mangled and was strewn along the Nickel Plate right of way for several miles. HUFFER, 70, a farmer who resides 2 miles south and two miles east of Mentone was instantly killed at 2:15 o’clock Wednesday afternoon when struck by a Nickel Plate passenger train at the junction of roads 25 and 19 in Mentone. Mr. Huffer is a former resident of this city. For ten years he operated a livery barn on East Seventh street with the late Albert CLAREY. He had a large number of friends in this city.

No one saw the train hit Huffer. He had been talking to some Mentone friends a few minutes before. They thought he had crossed the tracks safely. They lost sight of him when the train passed. Huffer’s Auburn auto was later found parked in Mentone. Business across the tracks at Mentone elevators had occasioned his walking across the railroad.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 15. -- Coroner Paul LANDIS continued his investigation into the death of C. D. HUFFER, 70, who was killed at the Nickel Plate crossing at Mentone by a train at 2:15 o’clock Wednesday afternoon. A theory of suicide is being investigated by the officers.

Investigations were made in Mentone by Coroner Paul Landis and officers and according to Mr. and Mrs. Henry ROBBINS who reside near the crossing of the state highway and the railroad tracks, Huffer was walking along by the tracks and a lumber shed for about 15 minutes before the train arrived. They did not see the train hit Huffer.

Charles ARNSBERGER was driving from the south with a load of wood and he told officers that he saw Huffer and the train, and he claimed Huffer was bending over watching the train as it approached. The station agent at Mentone said that about 20 minutes before the train arrived, Huffer asked him of the train stopped to throw off mail and he also asked him if it went through town at a high rate of speed.

Persons who had talked with Huffer in the court house on Wednesday morning reported that his conversation was like that of any other individual as he spoke of plans he was making for the next day.

The coroner hoped late Saturday to have finished questioning witnesses and to reach a verdict.

Because of the speed of the train the body of Huffer was not taken from pilot of the engine until Argos was reached. Huffer was a farmer and he resided two miles east of Mentone. Funeral services were held Saturday at 1:30 o’clock at the Palestine Christian church with Miss America HERBAUGH, 80, a resident of the Mt. Zion community died at her home sometime Saturday evening. Death was due to complications. The deceased had been a cripple since March 1926 when she broke a hip in a fall.

The body was found by John CARTER a neighbor who went to the Herbaugh home Sunday shortly before noon to see if she was in need of anything, a custom followed by neighbors.

When he failed to arouse Mrs. Herbaugh he hailed Mr. and Mrs. Omar STEFFEY who were driving by and the three entered the home. The aged lady’s lifeless body was lying on the floor.

It was at first thought that Miss Herbaugh might have received the bruise on her head from a blow. The examination showed that she had suffered the bruise when she fell shortly before her death.

Miss Herbaugh was known to keep considerable money in her home. Credence to the story that she might have been beaten and robbed was the fact that money which she had withdrawn from a bank has not as yet been found. It is possible that Miss Herbaugh has spent the money.

Miss Herbaugh was born in Newport, Ohio, on March 17, 1854. She came to this county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Absalom HERBAUGH, in a covered wagon when she was five years of age. Miss Herbaugh was a member of the Methodist Church at Green Oak.

Mrs. Jane BEMENDERFER, aged 83 years, a life long resident of this community passed away at her home a half mile south of this city at five o’clock Friday evening. Mrs. Bemenderfer had been in ill health from a complication of diseases for the past two years. Joseph, son of William and Martha MARROW, was born in Miami county, Indiana on March 2nd, 1855. Upon reaching manhood Mr. Marrow was united in wedlock to Minerva NICHOLS. In the year of 1909 he removed from Wabash county to the Argos community where he has since resided. He followed the occupation of farming up until his last illness. Funeral services in charge of Rev. R. O. KIMBERLIN will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o’clock at the Argos Methodist church. Burial will be made in the Maple Grove cemetery in Argos.
Mrs. Jane BEMENDERFER who died at her home at the south edge of Rochester last Friday evening and who was buried Sunday after funeral services in the United Brethren Church at Athens was well known in Indiana and many surrounding states.

Mrs. Bemenderfer was known because of her powers as a clairvoyant and seeress. Early in life her strange gift manifested itself and her school mates would come to her when they had lost various articles and she would tell them where they were. It was not until later in life that she gained a reputation as a seeress.

Mrs. Bemenderfer has been consulted in recent years in nearly every mysterious murder which has been committed in this section of the country for many years. She was credited with aiding officers in the solution of many crimes through tips which she gave them.

The aged lady was consulted by persons whose relatives had disappeared or who had lost articles. She also, it was said, often assisted the sick.

Mrs. Bemenderfer seemed to have a peculiar power when it came to drowning cases and was often consulted in such accidents. At one time a lad by the name of George GUTHIER, of Huntington, drowned in the waters of Lake Manitou. The family consulted Mrs. Bemenderfer and she told them the spot where the body would come to the surface of the lake and the time. The persons who had talked with Mrs. Bemenderfer were skeptical but went to the place designated which was just to the south of Big Island and at the time named the body came to the surface as she said it would. The body had been lodged under a log.

At one time the family of Catherine WINTERS, a girl who disappeared from her home at Newcastle years ago, came to consult her. Mrs. Bemenderfer told they would not find their daughter and they never have. If she knew what was the girl’s fate Mrs. Bemenderfer never disclosed it.

Her home was a somewhat impressive place being set among fir trees, while her personal appearance was somewhat like that of the women who were tried for witchcraft in the colonial days. The reception room of her house contained books on mysticism, occult and treatises on Hades.

Mrs. Bemenderfer never charged for her consultations but would accept a donation. Many times she would not answer at the time she was visited but would tell the persons to return at another time.

She could have been wealthy it is said had she so desired because of the donations which she received from persons who called at her home. The aged lady however was very charitable and aided many persons.

John D. HOLMAN, 74, the oldest living active merchant in Rochester, died at 1:30 Wednesday morning, at his home, the result of heart trouble from which he had been quite ill for three months. He had been in poor health for the last fifteen years and during the past three years had been quite ill at times. He was widely known over Fulton and vicinity due to his long business career as a shoe and dry goods merchant in this city and to his ability to make friends and always give them a cheery greeting.

Mr. Holman first worked on his father’s farm near Richland Center, then became a school teacher which profession he followed for several years. During his evening hours and in vacation he worked at the carpenter trade and always kept a liking for the building work. Meanwhile he had developed a desire for business and an 1889 he formed a partnership with the late George WALLACE in a shoe and drygoods store. Their store was located in the then newly built Arlington block and they were the first men to occupy a business room in that building. Mr. Wallace was replaced in the partnership several years later by Frank FOOTE, now of Warsaw. After that Ike ONSTOT began working in the store and later became a partner with Mr. Holman, a business relationship that lasted for 30 years. Mr. Holman’s store has been in the present location, 824 Main Street, for the last 25 years.

The well known drygoods merchant was also very progressive in other fields during his lifetime. He served as president of the Fulton County Cooperative Merchants Association, which was the commercial organization of the community at that time and very active. He was one of the early boosters of Lake Manitou as a summer resort and built the first cottage, “The Willows” on the lake about 28 years ago. He often recalled that when he erected this summer home there were only seven other buildings around the lake and the road to the place was of heavy sand. Later he built the first bathing beach of the lake in front of his cottage.

He was one of the pioneer automobile owners in Fulton county and was from the first a booster for automobile clubs and good roads and always a leader in these organizations. He and Mrs. Holman were both lovers of the great outdoors and they traveled whenever the opportunity presented itself and during their lifetimes they visited places of scenic beauty in all but one state in the union. They had friends in almost every place they went and they delighted in visiting with them at every opportunity.

Mr. Holman kept up actively in business until his last illness giving him a record of 45 years engaged in the drygoods and shoe trade at his death. He and Mrs. Holman also were proud of the fact that they have lived in their present location, 300 West Ninth Street, for 50 years, they having celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two years ago.

He was always a very active member of the Baptist Church, being a lifelong member and joined when it was located in the Val Zimmerman building. He served as a deacon and was superintendent of the Sunday School for 16 years and directed its growth from a membership of 68 to over 300. He taught the ladies Bible class for a number of years and often had as many as 100 gathered to listen to him. He was active in the building of the parsonage and the remodeling of the church.

John Holman was born on July 7, 1860 in Kosciusko county near Mentone the son of Charles and Delilah HOLMAN. He lived with his parents for several years in Kansas and then they moved to a farm in this county. On November 30, 1882 he was married to Miss Anna ONSTOTT and to this union one son, Harry [HOLMAN], was born Nov. 2, 1883. The great tragedy of their lives came when Harry, one of the most popular young men of the town, was killed when he fell beneath a moving railway train on March 23, 1902, a death which shocked the entire community.

He is survived by Mrs. HOLMAN, a brother George [HOLMAN], who is now at Winter Haven, Florida. Two nephews who reside here are Mayor Charles JONES and Roy JONES. One who lived with them for a number of years and was looked upon as a member of their family is Mrs. Charles BABCOCK of Indianapolis who is here now.

The funeral will be held at the Baptist Church on Friday afternoon at 2 o’clock. Rev. Benjamin FIELD will officiate while Rev. O. P. MILES of Lake Winona, former pastor of the Baptist church here and a close friend of the family will also pay final tribute to the deceased. Burial will be in the I.O.O.F. cemetery.
